HOPE DEFERRED.
MEN FEAR DEATH.
THE POPE WILL SPEAK.
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." That's in the Bible, and it is also in a decision handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals, telling Judge Clark of New Jersey that he was mistaken. The prohibition amendment was adopted legally. It stands, and is the law of the land. To which you may add that the amendment won't be repealed for many a day.

"Men fear death, as children fear to go in the dark, and as that natural fear in children is increased with tales, so is the other."
So Bacon said of our most widespread fear.

Marshall Joffre, who has the gratitude of his nation following him to the grave, quoted often the saying "nul ne peut se dire heureux avant son dernier jour." "No man can call himself happy, until his last day."

"Death hath ten thousand doors for men to take their exit."—They all lead to peace, rest, freedom from the world's worries, responsibilities and anxieties. It is fortunate for the race that divine wisdom makes us cling to life. If we were all as wise as Bacon and as philosophical as the old Greeks, many would be missing.

Major General Brown, chief of army engineers, says the United States government is virtually "at the mercy of the Alabama Power Co., in disposing of Muscle Shoals power."

That statement should interest somebody.

When they told Andrew Jackson something like that concerning a great bank, his reply was that if there existed any such power he would crush it, "by the eternal," as he did.

Engineers report that the $171,547,000 St. Lawrence river power project, as now planned, will eliminate "about 75 per cent of the hazards incident to such construction."

The project, according to engineers, will develop 2,000,000 horse power.

Nothing could be more interesting or important, since power is everything in man's industrial work, and in importance fresh air, and water.

The public would like to know about one hazard, however, namely, the hazard of having the power after the people build it fall into private hands. Will there be a private company in the United States charging one price for the power, and a publicly-owned company in Canada charging for the same power, exactly half the price charged in the United States? That is the situation at Niagara.

An encyclical to be issued by Pope Pius this week will reaffirm emphatically the Catholic doctrine on marriage, and is expected to express forceful disapprobation of birth control.

The pope will stipulate in the case of marriage between Catholics and those of other religions, that the non-Catholic party to the marriage must guarantee that any children born will be brought up as Catholics, and that the right of the Catholic party to worship will

Mrs. Opal Logan Kunz, one of the best known of American aviators, has been chosen as the first commander of the Betsy Ross Corps, a group of women pilots who have banded together "to serve their country in national emergencies of peace or war." Mrs. Kunz explained that the body was planned to serve "as a sort of auxiliary aerial motor corps."

TAXES ON STOCK PAID BY BANKS, NOT BY OWNERS

Shares, However, Listed In Owners' Names; Ruling Cited

LISBON, Jan. 6.—On Jan. 31, 1930, the tax commission of Ohio issued instructions concerning the listing of bank stockholders in reference to the tax duplicate prepared for the various institutions that make a practice of collecting taxes.

As the duplicates prepared for these various institutions had at that time been delivered, the names of national bank stockholders did not appear on the lists, but such names were placed on the county treasurer's duplicate.

Stockholders Uninformed
Banks paid the taxes on these shares just as they always had done, but the matter did not come to the attention of the individual owners of national bank stocks. On the duplicate lists furnished the collectors this year, the list of national bank stockholders necessarily appears.

A careful reading of the tax commission order, it has been explained by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, will reveal that while the names of stockholders do appear on the lists, conditions are not changed regarding the payment of the tax, and that it is still the business of the bank to pay the tax just as it

Install Officers At Goshen Grange

Wilford Sheeley and Mrs. V. E. Crouse of North Lima grange were in charge of the installation of officers for Goshen grange and its juvenile grange at a special meeting Monday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem.

They were assisted in the work by Fred Morgan and Joshua Crouse, marshals; Miss Mary Sheeley, and Billy Thompson, regalia bearers; Mrs. Wilford Sheeley and Miss Mildred Sheeley, emblem bearers, and Mrs. Fred Morgan, pianist.

There were visitors from Willow Grove and Smith granges. A supper was held in connection with the installation.

The young people's organization of Goshen grange will hold a social Wednesday night.

At the regular meeting Friday night Salem grangers will give a play.

Officers Elected By Lisbon Church

LISBON, Jan. 6.—Officers of the First Christian church were elected at the annual congregational meeting Monday night.

They are: Elder, Robert T. Morris; deacons, Frank Reeder, William Pike, George Smith and David Patterson; trustees, Dr. W. B. Chellis; deacons, Miss Maud Frederick and Mrs. Frank Riddle.

Rev. F. C. Lake is the pastor.

Pleads Not Guilty

LISBON, Jan. 6.—Bruno Ferris of New Waterford pleaded not guilty to a charge filed against him by Miss Audrey Perkins, 19, of the East Liverpool-Salem rd., in Justice M. K. Zimmerman's court here today.

Ferris is being held on $500 bond.

WARNS AGAINST ANY SYSTEM TO INCREASE RATES

Governor Delivers Final Address To General Assembly

MESSAGE REVIEWS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Relief For Farmer And Home Owner Urged By Executive

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 6.—Development of a taxation program that will require those not paying their just share of taxes to pay more and those now paying more than their just share to pay less, and a welfare program carrying out the recommendations of his special welfare committee were subjects stressed most by Governor Cooper in his final message to the general assembly delivered personally today.

Without making specific recommendations for new tax laws, the governor warned against adoption of any system that will increase taxes. He commended the reports of his special taxation committee for the assembly's consideration.

Reviews Accomplishments

The message was a review of accomplishments of the work of the last legislature and of his administration during the last two years, punctuated now and then with recommendations for additional legislation.

Chief among specific recommendations made by Mr. Cooper were: Legislation calling for the use of non-explosive films in aerial developments and destruction of all explosive films now in the files of the state industrial commission. These recommendations being made as a result of the Cleveland Clinic disaster.

Revision of the workmen's compensation law to require the state and political subdivisions to contribute sufficiently for their injured workmen and to insure equal protection for dependents of all persons killed in industry.

Set Women's Flight Record

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—A new refueling endurance flight record for women was hung up today by Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper.

At 9:46 a. m. the girl pilots surpassed by one hour the previous mark of 42 hours, 16 minutes, which was set months ago by Miss Trout and Elinor Smith, of New York.

It was a chilly morning for the record-breaking with winds sweeping over the Municipal airport, scene of the flight, from the snow-capped ridge of the Hollywood mountains, bordering the city. But the new record was insufficient compensation for numbed fingers and the flight went on, now aimed at the men's record of 645 hours.

FARMERS PLAN TWO-DAY MEET AT GREENFORD

J. W. Farnsworth, Mrs. Lottie Randolph Institute Speakers

J. W. Farnsworth of Waterville, and Mrs. Lottie M. Randolph of New Lexington, are the state speakers for the Greenford Farmers' institute, which will be held Wednesday and Thursday, at the high school in Greenford.

Farnsworth is president and manager of the W. G. Farnsworth Orchards company, which owns and operates 190 acres of fruit land. He has made trips to the west coast and into the south for the purpose of studying the methods of growing, marketing and transportation of the principal fruit crops and vegetables. He is active in church, educational and civic organizations.

Economics Instructor
Mrs. Randolph's qualifications for farmers' institute lecture work include instruction in home economics at Ohio State university and leadership of women's projects in Perry county extension service. She is a Sunday school teacher, president of the New Lexington League of Women voters, and superintendent of the Junior department, Ohio conference. Women's Foreign Missionary society.

R. C. Lamb of Washingtonville is president of the institute. E. R. Kurtz of Washingtonville is secretary and Mrs. Robert Shepherd of Greenford is lady correspondent. The institute will open at 9:30.

MULLINS NAMED PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To Succeed Emeny When Latter Retires In March

ATTY. JOEL SHARP IS VICE PRESIDENT

Miss Betty Miller Secretary To Superintendent Alan

(By Associated Press)

FREDERICK P. MULLINS was elected president of the board of education to succeed F. J. Emeny at the 1931 reorganization meeting of the board Monday night.

Mullins was elected by unanimous vote, being advanced to the presidency from position of vice-president. He will be succeeded as vice-president by Atty. Joel H. Sharp.

Emeny President 10 Years
Mullins is a graduate of Salem High school and Yale university. He is now affiliated with the A. E. Masten and Co., brokers, of Pittsburgh.

Emeny, president of the board for more than 10 years and for 20 years a board member, submitted his resignation as a member to take effect immediately. The resignation was tabled by unanimous vote of members present, Clyde R. Reich, R. B. Snyder and Sharp.

The former president's resignation was refused following which he agreed to continue with the board until its meeting in March when further action will be taken on the matter.

Emeny submitted the resignation to Clerk Albert Hayes and asked that it be accepted because of his long and continued service, covering a period of 20 years. He said he had contemplated resigning for more than a year and refused the nomination for his eleventh year as president.

WHITE CHOOSES "DIRT FARMER"

I. S. Guthery of La Rue Is Governor-Elect's Selection for State Director of Agriculture

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 6.—I. S. Guthery, La Rue banker and former "dirt farmer," state legislator and rural school teacher, today was Governor-elect George White's selection for state director of agriculture in his new administration.

Though now president of the Campbell National bank at La Rue, Guthery has been engaged in farming almost all his life, and now owns an 800-acre farm in Marion county and operates an additional 700 acres with his two sons.

During the administration of former Governor James M. Cox, Guthery served two terms as representative from Marion county, later being appointed to the board of administration which then supervised state institutions.

NEW HEARING IN MERGER DENIED

Sheet, Tube Executives To Hold Conference In Cleveland Today

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 6.—Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins today denied an application for a new hearing in the injunction suit to prevent the merger of Bethlehem Steel corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

No hearing was sought on the application, which was filed after Judge Jenkins granted the injunction December 29. The denial today merely took the form of a docket entry.

The application and its denial clear the legal path for an appeal on error, if the defending companies decide to follow that course. Officials of both companies have said that no decision as to their future course has been reached as yet.

Immediately after Judge Jenkins' decision was announced a conference of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company executives, directors and counsel was summoned in Cleveland.

A contingent including the local counsel and all the company's directors living in Youngstown who voted for the merger left for Newton D. Baker's office in Cleveland within an hour after Judge Jenkins made his docket entry.

Christian Church To Meet Wednesday

The Christian church will hold its annual congregational meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Officers will be elected for 1931, both for the official board and Sunday school. In addition, reports are to be made of the last year's activities in all of the departments and organizations of the church.

A special program of musical selections has been prepared and will occupy the first part of the service.

Following the business session the newly elected officers will meet to organize the official board of 1931.

TEACHERS' PAY TO BE DELAYED; FUNDS LACKING

County Unable To Grant Requests For Cash Advances

Lacking funds with which to meet checks, the board of education will be forced to delay bi-monthly payments of salaries to teachers in Salem public schools until after Jan. 20, it was announced at the board's first meeting of 1931 Monday night.

Advance Requests Refused
The checks are scheduled for issuance this Friday. Clerk Albert Hayes said, but it will be impossible for the board to pay the salaries. Requests for an advance in money from the county was refused by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker by County explained to Hayes that no funds have been turned in to Fred George, county treasurer, by tax collectors in Salem.

It will be the first time in more than 20 years school officials say, that the board will not be able to provide for teachers' salaries upon the scheduled date.

Salaries for school teachers total more than $6,600 every two weeks, only $2,000 now being available. All bills are being held up by the board in an effort to collect funds from every available source towards the amount needed for salaries while a last-minute effort for an advance will again be made by Hayes.

"No taxes have been collected from Salem, so of course the county has no money to send to the schools," Walker told the board. "The county can promise no money for sometime but we urge that the board take action in requesting tax collectors in Salem to remit funds to the county treasurer as soon as possible."

Tax collections are proceeding slowly and it is probable that the board will receive its February settlement until April.

The proceeds will be used in financing a fresh air camp next summer.

APPROPRIATION MEASURE SHOWS BOOST IN FUND

$236,668.82 Will Be Requested From County In Taxes

$8,500 ALLOTTED TO IMPROVEMENTS

Annexation Of New Area Prompts Increase In Requirements

COLUMBUS, Jan. 6.—The house and senate of the general assembly recessed until 2 p. m. today after hearing Gov. Cooper deliver his last message, personally.

Estimating financial needs of Salem public schools during the year at more than $240,000, members of the board of education last night passed the annual appropriation ordinance, unanimously, at their first meeting of the year.

A total of $236,668.82 will be requested from Columbiana county in taxes through the ordinance which appropriates finances to various school departments. This represents an increase of more than $27,000 over 1930 appropriations, the result of the annexation of Perry township school districts to city school districts and general increase in need of additional funds for school purposes.

Improvements Planned
The board provided $8,500 for improvements contemplated during the present year, the main item on the program being the completion of Reilly athletic stadium through the construction of a concrete and brick wall on the west side of the field. The board also indicated that the bond issue to provide funds for the construction of a new senior high school will again be placed before Salem voters at the November election this year.

The year's appropriations provide $116,000 for the payment of teachers' salaries, it being the largest sum required for this purpose in history of Salem schools. Last year a total of $110,000, the former high mark, was needed for payment of salaries. The amount stipulated for this year does not include payment of salaries for administrative offices or special instructors and teachers.

Cuts were effected in various funds in order to allow for the increase in needs for the teachers' salary fund. Last year $20,000 was appropriated for the improvement of school sites, part of which fund was devoted to the construction of additional bleacher seats and a brick and concrete wall on the east side of Reilly stadium.

Other Sources To Aid
The board estimated that $236,668.82 will be forthcoming from the county from taxation assessments and figured that an additional $4,000 or $4,500 will be available from other sources.

The complete list of the year's appropriations follows:

Administration—$6,600; instruction—$116,000; coordinate activities (dental inspections, school nurse, etc.) $1,300; auxiliary agencies (playground employees, school librarian)—$2,120; operation of schools, (janitors and other employees)—$13,380.

PERFECT MONTHS

The national committee on calendar simplification is brightly hopeful that 1931 may go down in history as the year in which it was decided that the calendar given the world in 40 B. C. had outlived its usefulness and that a better system of arranging the days, weeks and months was adopted by civilized nations. Admiration for the committee's chery outlook is tempered liberally with compassion, generated by conviction that the world moves very slowly in such matters.

At any rate, 1931 brings an opportunity to the calendar reformists to show the world a rare phenomenon—a perfect month. It cannot happen again until 1942, unless the calendar be changed before that time.

The perfect month is February, which this year begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday, the exact pattern proposed for the reformed calendar. To make all months conform to the pattern it would be necessary, of course, to add a 13th month, which would gather up all 29th, 30th and 31st dates by taking in the last 13 days of June and the first 15 days of July. The principal result would be to eliminate the confusion caused by the incessant change in the present months. An incidental result of the reform would be to "fix" all church festivals to perpetual dates. Days of the week would fall no longer on different dates of different months because the months all would be the same. Christmas and all holidays would fall on Monday. Each year would end on Year Day, the one day in each year in excess of 52 weeks not absorbed by the extra month. Every four years the added day in leap year would occur on June 29 and be known as Leap day. In short, the reformed calendar would be the complete fulfillment of a long-cherished business dream, and would, in the matter of holidays and festival days, eliminate much confusion in other activities.

It will be accepted eventually, perhaps sooner than skeptics would be willing to set a date. In its way, however, it is perfection, and it may be expected that the world will be slow to move toward it.

SELLING POSSIBILITIES

The front of the jacket on a recent issue of a magazine published semi-monthly by the Amtorg trading corp to place the facts of Russia's economic development before the American people bears the following summary of contents:

Analysis of Soviet purchases in the United States.
Recent Amtorg orders.
Development of socialized restaurants.

Industry in October.
Accompanying these topics is a photograph of the blast furnace of the Volkov Steel Plant at Kerch, in the Crimea. It is a sample of 16 excellent photographs in the body of the magazine affording visible proof of the progress toward industrial construction being made in Russia.

Under the heading "Soviet Purchases in the United States" one reads that Soviet American trade has expanded rapidly since regular trade transactions were resumed in 1913. It is stated that of 38 countries listed doing business with the United States the Soviet alone increased its purchases in this country during the first 10 months of 1930; that during the fiscal year 1929-30 (ending Sept. 30, 1930) Soviet purchases in the United States reached the record total of $149,223,000. In the course of the last seven years Soviet purchases have more than trebled, constituting 80 percent of the total Soviet-American trade turnover of $750,777,000. Purchases for the Soviet during this period were four times as great as sales, while the balance of trade in favor of the United States totaled $448,000,000. United States customs data for the first 10 months of 1930 show that the Soviet ranked eighth among the 20 largest American producers, compared with eighteenth in 1929. The "recent" Amtorg orders" are listed orders for $270,000 worth of disc plows, $40,000 worth of tractors, $50,000 worth of cultivators, $105,000 worth of Ford spare parts, $300,000 worth of engines, $325,000 worth of metals and other orders of similar proportions.

The section on "socialized restaurants" is a terse account of the development of that project and a statement that by the end of 1931 no less than 70 to 80 per cent of the workers in the basic industries will be provided with socialized eating places.

"Industry in October," a detailed account, shows that the volume of production in all branches of large scale industry was 23 per cent higher in October than in September, and 201 per cent above October, 1929.

It is fascinating reading, even to minds untrained to grasp its significance in detail. A country, made a pariah by reason of the unpopular social doctrine its political leaders preach, is being sold to the world on the strength of its accomplishments. The magazine described is but a small part of the vast propagandizing machine supported by the Soviet; the brand of salesmanship it exercises is decidedly indirect by comparison. Slowly, but ever so surely, the sales resistance of the United States is yielding—not to communism, not to the Soviet Republic but to that highly powerful argument—dollars and cents.

What Others Say

CAPITAL IN CANADA.

There is more United States capital invested in Canada than in any other foreign country. We have nearly $2,000,000,000 at work in industry there. A survey just completed by the department of commerce reveals these facts.

Is it not reasonable, then, that this country and Canada should be friends? We are a part of the Canadian system of mines, factories, sugar plantations and public utilities and every commercial and industrial activity in which Americans are engaged at home.

South America follows Canada in the use of United States capital to the tune of $1,547,895,000; Europe, with $1,352,735,000; Cuba and the West Indies, $1,053,751,000.

Here is some idea of the magnitude of our business abroad. With Canada we need no forts and no armies. We do business as neighbors and friends. We set the entire world an example of what may be done with respect to boundaries and interests. We have upward of a hundred years of this peace-time association to our credit. It constitutes an era. It proves what may be possible if bordering nations be willing to associate in peace and comfort and all kindly accord in all financial and industrial agreement.

It would be the height of ineptitude, of blind folly on the part of the statesmanship of either country, to throw in the way of this rapport anything that would tend injuriously to affect it, whether through the ephemeral opportunism of tariffs or any other principles or methods calculated to strain relationships so commendable and so helpful as those which have existed between Canada and the United States for more than a century. Canada is one of our best customers and one of our best friends—Cincinnati Enquirer.

NEW YORK

Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—In active hours Times Square is a gushing fountain of scandal, intrigue and human pettiness. It is in perpetual boil, but at 4 a. m. in its first lap of sleep there is the icy indifference and the sullen languor of the ashen gray sky.

In an all night sandwich parlor I just left, only a sprinkling remained. A few nodded at tables, food half eaten. A tipsy, sobbing girl whose face was smudged with mascara moaned: "A sweet jam got me into it. If I go home he'll kill me." One of those sure guys reading a racing form.

Outdoors scarcely a dozen in sight. The only noise—the slim chime of far-away bells. A newswoman, eyes heavy with sleep, uncovers in a hallway, stretches and scuffles toward a subway kiosk for his supply of morning papers. A careening wall wagon screams across town. A lone diner sits in Lindy's.

Several stragglers drag out of an all night movie, coat collars up and caps pulled far down. They stand hesitatingly at gutters in the bracing air, shrug and move off no where. Stool and counter places have a cus, mer or so hunched over thick coffee cups, dunking half heartedly.

A whistling cop saunters along, offering his naive mysticism of tapping his club against iron bars. In the East clouds begin to fluff a rosy pink. Brass sign polishers are applying their rags. A weaving figure holds to a post sick at the curb. Huskies hurl stacks of morning editions on the corners.

Bright blonde gaily criss-crossed luggage is deposited in front of side street hotels. Blind newsmen tap their way to hutchies. The first screech of rail against rail in the subway. A minx in ermine steps from a limousine, smiles enigmatically at a snoring figure and skips up steps.

Suddenly Broadway stiffens. Floodgates are unloosed. There is the confusion of honking taxis, sirens trucks and a scurrying foam of faces. Save in the shady hotels where patrons sleep until dusk, all is vulgar display—the exuberance of Sodom.

A new publicity man was sent to a dock to meet an incoming Russian actor, cast for a brawny role in the movies. He was told to send his description to newspapers and sent this: "He weighs 237 pounds, stands six feet three in bare feet, neck 18 inches around and smells like a wolf."

The most distinguishing mark of gentlemen's evening dress is the set of the white bow tie. To aid this fashionable fable comes the new evening wing collar with the tabs cut out semi-circularly to make room for the knot. A sartorial "center door fancy," as it were.

Witty wights of Park avenue flapperdom now cry "Wood alcohol!" when saying farewell. Buckwheat snappers are chirping that in Gallopis yaws and yaws ago!

She is one of those exotic, beautiful flowers blooming in the Broadway muck. Her lovers have come from dignified mansions eastward, from the labyrinthine channels of Wall street, from dual palaces in the old world and where not with a precise but licentious unity. (All of which is very fancy and I can recite On the Road to Mandalay, too.) But a few months ago she crossed with an Argentine—a gigolo. He paid no attention to her on shipboard or in Paris. Instead of the usual intriguing little person to him she became a pest. Her ardor was so purblind that she literally threw herself at his feet. But to no avail. The crowning insult came when in one of her fearful entreaties he sneered: "You are too easily won. Even a gigolo likes resistance!"

I wonder if others, too like to poke around these garishly lit delicatessen shops in New York. To me there is something fascinating about the odors—like the dry smell of musk or the perfume of mouldering spices in the East India Dock warehouses. Incidentally Lafcadio Hearn is the only writer I know of who has written entertainingly of the psychological drama of smells.

From a newspaper periodical: "Clumping came into popularity quickly and will vanish just as quickly."

That's she blows!

"Sensitivity Tests"

No one who has never had it can really appreciate the misery and anguish that one with asthma goes through. In an attack of this dreaded disease, there is a spasm of the windpipe and of the smaller tubes that bring air to the lungs.

There is marked difficulty in breathing. The patient can not lie down and he may assume odd positions in his attempts to breathe more freely. He complains that he is unable to "catch his breath." He suffers painfully because of the lack of air reaching his lungs.

We have a great group of cases caused by sensitivity to certain substances. These may be animal emanations, certain foods, the pollen of plants, and in some cases, substances developed by bacteria. In many instances, the bedding, or one of the house furnishings, may be the source of the irritation.

Individuals suffering from this type of asthma should be subjected to "sensitivity tests." By means of these tests the substance which causes the attacks may be determined. Then when it is removed from the diet, the clothing or the surroundings, the attacks usually disappear. The tests are simple and painless and the results are gratifying. The results of the treatment have been exceptionally successful in children.

We have another type of asthma which is commonly seen in adults beyond 40 years of age. This is commonly spoken of as "non-specific asthma," for it is not due to one of the irritating substances I have mentioned. It is the type seen in individuals who have long been sufferers from chronic bronchitis.

In this the prospect of cure is not so bright. It has not been determined exactly what is the cause of the paroxysms or spasms. These attacks vary in intensity. At times they are so severe that relief is only obtained by hypodermic medication by a physician.

A change in climate is likely to benefit persons suffering from asthma. Countries with dry, temperate climate are helpful to many.

The victim of chronic asthma should be under the constant supervision of a physician. Continued asthmatic attacks weaken the heart and lungs. These organs should be periodically examined for any signs of weakness so that proper treatment may be given.

Answers to Health Queries

A WORRIED MOTHER. Q—My boy of eight is apparently well and healthy with red lips and rosy cheeks but he has bluish shadows under his eyes which are more noticeable owing to the fact that he has a very white skin. Is a condition of this kind serious in any way? He has had worms.

A—This may be of little significance but it would be wise to have a thorough examination to locate a possible cause. Be sure the worms have been definitely eradicated, and be sure that his bowels move regularly.

X. Y. Q.—Is there a cure for colitis?
2—What is oedema of the veins—is this anything like arthritis?
3—What will improve the circulation and health in general?
4—Do swollen feet indicate arthritis?

A—This depends upon the extent and seriousness of the trouble. In some cases proper diet and care will bring about a cure. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2—This disturbance is a swelling or puffiness of the part, due to an accumulation of fluid in the tissue. No. It is more like varicose veins.

3—Improve your health and the circulation will take care of itself.
4—Not necessarily, although the trouble may be due to this disturbance. Have the kidneys examined to make sure they have no bearing on the trouble.

"A CONSTANT READER." Q—What do you advise for sinus trouble?
A—Consult a nose and throat specialist for treatment.

B. H. R. Q.—Is it harmful to the hair or scalp to expose the head to the summer sun.
—No.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, January 7
A rather unimportant day is forecast from the chain of minor planetary aspects. These, however, are not of a friendly nature, any may incubate many small annoyances, perplexities and inharmonies. The most menacing figure for this threatens the social domestic or professional relations, with the realm of employment under hazardous influence.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year which may be beset with minor annoyances, complications and setbacks, especially in employment and in domestic, affectional and social circles. With equanimity and wise action, things may be developed with some satisfaction, but all depends on one's own attitude. A child born on this day may be disposed to be restless, nervous, querulous and critical, qualities which may react unappily on its own peace of mind and progress.

HOOVER TO GET INVITATION TO HARDING RITES

Resolution Is Adopted At Meeting Of Memorial Unit

MARION, Jan. 6.—Trustees of the Harding Memorial association, in session here yesterday afternoon, extended an invitation to President Hoover to come to Marion and deliver the dedicatory address at the dedication of the tomb of the late President Warren G. Harding. Former President Calvin Coolidge was invited to attend the dedication and to preside.

Date To Suit Guests
The invitations, embodied in a resolution, requested that the date for the dedication be set between May 15, and Nov. 15 next to suit the convenience of the president and Mr. Coolidge.

The invitation was issued by the trustees after they had learned through a White House statement, that President Hoover would participate in the dedication if invited to do so.

The resolution was introduced by Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding administration. It was adopted unanimously. The meeting was held behind closed doors and Secretary Hoke Donithen refused to give out the names of the members in attendance.

The resolution specified that copies be delivered personally to Mr. Hoover and Mr. Coolidge by a committee composed of Donithen and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, president of the association.

Whereas, the Harding Memorial association recognizing the propriety of the president of the United States delivering the dedicatory address upon the occasion of the dedication of the memorial erected at Marion, Ohio, to the memory of our beloved president, Warren G. Harding, by voluntary contributions of the American people; and

Whereas, Hon. Calvin Coolidge is honorary president of the association;

Now therefore, be it resolved, that the officers of the association extend to the president of the United States a cordial and respectful invitation to deliver the principal address at the dedication of the Harding Memorial, and that ex-President Coolidge be invited and requested to preside at the ceremonies and participate therein; and that the date of the dedication be fixed at a time between the 15th day of May and the 15th day of November, 1931, the precise date to be selected by the president to suit his convenience and that of ex-President Coolidge; and

Be it further resolved, that all public officials and the public generally be invited to attend said ceremonies and thereby pay their respects to the memory of the late president.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution of invitation be personally delivered to President Hoover and ex-President Coolidge by a committee hereby appointed composed of Hon. Joseph Frelinghuysen, president of the association, and Hon. Hoke Donithen, secretary thereof, and that the details and program of the dedication be by the officers of the association fixed and carried out to meet the approval and convenience of the president of the United States and ex-President Coolidge.

NEW YORK—The Bible continues to be the best seller, though publishers expect that final figures will show somewhat of a decrease last year from 1929 when sales were 14,000,000 in this country.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—A new law now in effect requires teachers in public schools to read to pupils daily a brief passage from the King James version of the Bible.

ATLANTIC CITY—Silence is too loud for a lot of folks. As Dr. Walter A. Wells of Washington put it at a meeting of specialists: "An actual fondness for noise has become alarmingly common in America explains widespread popularity of jazz. Many people are restless and unhappy until back again where they can hear the noise of the city streets."

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y.—An announcement is made of the marriage of Dr. Linn S. Fenimore Cooper, great grandson of James Fenimore Cooper, the novelist, to Miss Eleanor Pickels of Baltimore. The ceremony was at the home of the doctor's twin brother, Paul S. Fenimore Cooper, who follows the profession of his great grandfather.

ANGORA, TURKEY—Many deputies in parliament are arguing that it is almost impossible to collect debts in Turkey and are therefore urging that a law, abolished last year, be restored. It provided imprisonment for debt.

CATHOLICS WILL HOLD NATIONAL CAGE TOURNEYS

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Catholic High school basketball teams from all sections of the country will again march on Chicago for Loyola university's national championship tournament.

It was decided yesterday that the event inaugurated in 1924 would be renewed for the eighth time, March 18 to 22, despite disapproval of national tournaments by the National Federation of State High School Athletic associations and the North Central Conference of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., whose University of Chicago inter-scholastic tournament was the father of such events, announced two weeks ago that it would not be renewed. It was expected that Loyola would reach a similar decision, but the Rev. George E. Kiley, S. J., athletic director, said a poll of Catholic school officials throughout the country indicated they wished it to be held at least once more.

Too much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine, prescribed by doctors for conditions due to excess acid. It is always a liquid; it cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips' and the word genuine in red.

4 ARE OUSTED IN POSTOFFICE INVESTIGATION

Quartet Of Postmasters Accused Of Bypassing Appointments

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Swift action by the postoffice department today had ousted four Indiana postmasters charged with bypassing their appointments from a member of congress.

From First District
All came from the first district represented by Harry E. Rowbottom, Republican. He was not named in the postoffice department announcement of the dismissals yesterday but two of the dismissed persons said they had contributed to Rowbottom's campaign fund and another was active for him in the last election, which saw Rowbottom's defeat by a Democrat.

Evidence in the case was in the hands of the department of justice for action.

Dismissed postmasters are: Otto A. Wellbrenner, Mount Vernon; William E. Davison, Petersburg; McKinley Ayres, Crisney; and Mrs. Helen Reetz, Boonville. A rural carrier, Ross Wibbler, of Dale, was suspended.

Senators Launch Probe
The investigation which ended in the dismissals was instigated by Indiana's two Republican senators, Watson and Robinson. A sister Postmaster General Coleman said they reported gossip prevalent in Indiana regarding payments of money in exchange for appointments.

"A searching investigation," he continued, "was immediately inaugurated by the inspection division, resulting in evidence so conclusive that these postmasters were dismissed."

Appointments to replace the four were made immediately. Rowbottom at his home in Evansville said he knew nothing of the dismissals. Mrs. Reetz said she had paid $200 into the representative's campaign fund, being informed there was a deficit. Ayres, who had held his office nine years, declined to discuss the dismissal. Wellbrenner said he had contributed but he refused to name the amount.

Davison was active in Rowbottom's last campaign also.

BOOK CLUB

An interesting and instructive talk on "The Way of Literature" was given by J. L. Gray of Salem, assistant superintendent of county schools, at a meeting of the Book club Monday afternoon at Memorial building.

The quotation for this meeting was "Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body." The roll call response was "New Year's Resolutions."

The program was composed of these numbers: Vocal duets, Mrs. R. D. Painter and Mrs. Cora Schwartz, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Berry; "Vocalization Training," Mrs. Cloyd Harris; Christmas lullaby, Rachel Lou Kester; book review, "The Laughing Boy," (Oliver La Farge) Mrs. Morris Ellsworth.

The club will have a casserole dinner at 6:30 p. m. Monday, Jan. 19. It will be followed by a sketch given by members of the club.

HALL-KNEEN
Miss Dorothy Lucille Hall and Ferris Philip Kneen of Cleveland, were married at 4 p. m. Saturday in Cleveland.

Miss Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer L. Hall, of Cleveland, has relatives in this vicinity. She is a graduate of Wheaton college. Mr. Kneen is a graduate of Cornell university. He is employed by the Perfection Stove company in Cleveland. After a honeymoon trip to Washington and other eastern points Mr. and Mrs. Kneen will live in Cleveland.

CLEVER CARD CLUB
Mrs. Pearl Nisbaum and Mrs. John Webber, Jr., were included in the guest list when members of the Clever Card club met Monday evening with Mrs. Charles Leaf, Brooklyn avenue.

The hours were devoted to "500" with three tables in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Hicks and Mrs. Ida Alaback. In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. V. L. Malloy, East State street.

MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB
Mrs. George Campbell extended hospitality to associates of the Monday Afternoon club yesterday at her home, North Lincoln avenue. The usual diversions interested the members. Refreshments were served.

Misses Blanche and Verona Chapin, East State street, are spending Tuesday and Wednesday in Cleveland.

Miss Madeline Dunn of Washingtonville spent the weekend with Miss Gladys Werther, West State street.

Today's Pattern
This swaggar coat is a delightful model which serves double duty, as it may be worn with or without the cape. It is exceptionally easy to make too, since there are no intricate details. The elbow length cape adds a surprising amount of warmth and does away with the necessity of an interlining in the body of the coat.

Pattern 2077 may be developed in tweed, chinchilla cloth, velour or a novelty woolen. It will prove serviceable in brown, blue, rust, rose or a mixture. An inexpensive fur collar may be made from lapin seal, nutria or squirrel.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch material.

COUPON
This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15c, coin or stamps, carefully wrapped. Latest Fashion Book 10c. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

NATIONAL BANKS PAY STOCK TAX

always has done. These national banks have a ways had the authority to collect these taxes from their stockholders, but have never done so, preferring to list this as one of the expenditures of the bank, and considering this item in calculating their dividends.

Do Not List, Order
Persons owning shares of stock in national banks in Ohio should not list the same for taxation, and should not pay to the county any taxes upon such stock. This responsibility rests with the bank just as it has in former years. Collectors of taxes in the various cities should not collect this tax from the shareholders.

The order of the tax commission reads: "The attention of the tax commission has been directed to certain procedure followed by county auditors in the matter of listing bank stock."

"Following the filing of a number of actions by national banks in several counties of the state to enjoin the collection of taxes on the shares of stock of such national banks, the attention of the tax commission has been called to the fact that in many, if not all, of the counties in the state, the county auditors have been listing such shares of stock according to aggregate valuation against the bank, whether national or state, and not by separate entries on the tax list against the shareholders of such bank stock according to the assessed value of such shares of stock held by them, as determined by the county auditor under Section 5412, General Code."

Listed in Owners' Name
Under the statutes of this state enacted in conformity with the provisions of Section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, United States Code Annotated, Section 548, Title 12, the shares of stock in national banks, and state banks as well, when valued for taxation by the county auditor, are required to be placed on the tax list in the names of the respective owners of such shares of stock. In other words, shares of bank stock owned by any individual or corporation should be listed for taxation at the assessed value thereof in the name of such individual or corporation, on the personal property tax list provided for by Section 2583, General Code, and the amount of taxes for each half year should be extended against such entry in the manner provided for by Section 2594, General Code.

Inasmuch as under the provision of Section 5672, General Code, the bank is required to collect the taxes due upon its shares of stock from the several owners of such shares and to pay the same to the treasurer of the county, there should be carried on such tax list or other convenient record a notation of the total assessed value of all of the shares of the bank and of the amount of taxes to be paid each half year thereon.

Shareholders Liable
However, the refusal or neglect of the bank to pay such taxes does not affect the liability of the several shareholders of the stock of such bank to pay the taxes extended against the shares of stock owned by them; and if the shares of such bank stock are listed in the name of the owners thereof on the tax list, and the taxes thereon are extended against such entries, all as provided by Sections 2583 and 2594, General Code, be complied with and that the proper entries be made on the tax list and duplicate in compliance with this order, which is effective at once and applicable to the tax list and duplicate of the year 1930.

Furthermore it will be the duty of the Catholic party to the marriage to pray unceasingly for the conversion of the non-Catholic party.

The Catholic church has one peculiarity useful in maintaining its position. It does not change its mind.

In Britain, 20,000 weavers have started the kind of strike that, in the long run, can never succeed. They are not striking against lower wages, on the contrary, better wages are offered them. They are striking against an arrangement that would enable each man, with out overwork, to take care of eight looms instead of four, and earn more. They say that if one man takes care of eight looms, that will put other men out of work.

That's what stage coach drivers said when the locomotives came. Typewriters said it, when linotype machines were invented. There are more printers than ever better paid, and railroads employ 1,000 times as many as stage coaches ever did.

When the spinning Jenny, and other machinery came, it was necessary to build forts around mills, to protect them from angry workmen, who said men would lose their jobs. Immediately ten times as many were employed, since England proceeded to clothe millions in foreign lands.

But still workmen refuse to learn that greater production per man means greater wealth, wages, and comforts, in the long run, for everybody.

The Brooklyn, N. Y., Young Women's Christian association is engaged in proving that a young woman can buy enough food to keep herself for $1 a day. Let us hope that she can.

If it were impossible, what would become of the man that earns $4 a day or less, and must feed a wife and four or five children, and pay rent, doctor's bills, buy clothes and shoes.

The main question today is, unfortunately, how can a man feed himself and his wife and his children who hasn't got even $1 a day?

Ornate Candelabra to the Fore
Among the slightly Victorian decorations which are hovering on the edge of a revival are the ornate candelabra of an earlier day. Of course candelabra have always been used to some extent, and they have a charm of their own. Silver, pewter, copper, brass, "ole" and china and glass are among the materials used. Also, some very handsome effects are developed by the use of wrought iron.

What is most harmonious depends on the other items in a room, for a conspicuous pair of candelabra will suppress everything else if it doesn't blend properly. The wrought iron pieces go well with Spanish, Italian, or some early American furnishings. Modernistic candelabra also combine well with these periods.

Wrought iron seems like a homey medium for so decorative an article, yet there are skillful craftsmen today who will create handsome designs out of this material. Candelabra with their small holders emerging from branches of wrought iron leaves have a beautiful, hand-made effect, which provides just the right setting for mellow candlelight. Some of the early American candelabra of silver are just as beautiful, if not more so when copied in wrought iron.

Candelabra come in many attractive sizes. They may be low affairs, a few inches high only so that they blend well into the mantel over the fireplace. China candelabra are particularly effective over a Colonial type mantel. Or for the long refectory table, the candelabra a foot high or more are well-proportioned. Candelabra four or five feet high, usually of wrought iron, may flank the fireplace, or stand at either end of the long foyer table. This type of candelabra is also very effective if placed on either side of the piano, shedding a mellow and adequate light, and usually pleases the musician.

Last Minute Aids to Flavor
"This sauce is just flat," complained the young amateur cook sampling the contents of the steaming pan which she was stirring vigorously. "It tastes brown—and like nothing in particular, and I'm sure I followed the directions carefully."

Some such disappointment is felt occasionally when a new recipe is tried, and it may be due to the expectation of a different result. Sometimes names are misleading, and the finished dish isn't a bit like what the title indicated. The experienced cook of course knows and reads directions, and ingredients, and if the specifications seem inadequate, she makes alterations as she proceeds. But the beginner faithfully following directions, is sometimes astonished at the results!

Attaining Piquancy
However there are many ways in which flavors can be altered to suit even at the last minute. That's what condiments are for, and a goodly assortment will last a long time if used properly, that is, in very small amounts at a time. Overseasoning is ruinous to any dish—but a discreet amount will impart a pleasant flavor to a dish without revealing the precise nature of the ingredient. All the liquid prepared sauces—Worcestershire (tomato and walnut ketchup), chili sauce, soy sauce, tabasco sauce, various chopped pickles, mangoes, pickled walnuts, capers, chutney, horse-radish and pearl onions are among the spicy flavorings which can rescue soups and sauces from flatness. A teaspoonful of cooking sherry at the last minute before removing from the stove will also glorify a flat sauce beyond recognition. Grated rind of lemon or orange, and their juice, can be added to sweet dishes at the last moment to tone them up. Tubes of anchovy paste, mushroom paste, bouillon paste, are helpful. And of course, the more liberal the assortment of flavors—vanilla, almond, peppermint, chocolate, and other concentrated liquids, the more agreeable the variety imparted to simple desserts.

WARNS AGAINST NEW TAX SYSTEM

Governor Delivers Final Address to General Assembly

ry cut the recognized situation that education now is a state-wide obligation.

Additional and adequate physical improvements to carry out the recommendations of his special welfare commission, chiefly in the form of appropriations.

Provision for retesting cattle for tuberculosis in all testing areas at least every three years.

Appropriations for the state fair sufficient for competent and complete maintenance of present property, and appropriation for a new poultry building.

Development of a system of state parks and lakes combining all conservation interests, and a survey of all lakes to establish definite boundaries.

Suggests Relief Methods
Appointment of a committee to ascertain to what extent Ohio should participate in the bi-centennial of Washington's birthday in 1932 and make appropriate financial arrangements.

Referring to a new taxation program the governor said, "It is clear to me that the changes in our taxation system should be directed to giving relief for the farmer and the home owner, who have in the past borne more than their share of the taxation burden; and to certain classes of business property so that Ohio industry may compete on equal terms with similar enterprises in surrounding states."

"More tax from those who have not paid their share and less tax from those who have been paying more than their share, should be the main objective in securing the absolutely necessary revenues in the writing of a new tax law."

Problem of Relief
In discussing at length the welfare situation in the state and the recommendations of his special welfare committee, Mr. Cooper made the following observation: "This General Assembly will be confronted with no problem deserving more thoughtful and more earnest consideration, or calling for more immediate and definite action than that of adequate provision for the care and comfort of the unfortunate wards of the state."

During his two years of tenure, the governor said $3,500,000 have been spent for additions and betterments for welfare institutions which, he declared to be 40 per cent more than the average during the last five biennial periods. This does not include $1,000,000 in betterments under contract, he said.

serve System

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The American banking situation was indicated as sound by condition statements of leading banks as of Dec. 31, showing an unusual degree of liquidity.

Reports of the larger New York city banks as of Dec. 31, issued in response to the call of the controller of currency, generally showed decreases in deposits from Sept. 24 call, but sharp increases in liquid assets. The shrinkage in deposits was a natural development in view of the closing of many of the smaller banks and bank executives have turned many of their assets into ready cash to meet any extraordinary withdrawals that might develop.

Mismanagement Found
While suspensions of banks last year were unusually large, 60 per cent of the banks that were closed were capitalized at $25,000 or under and located in towns of less than 1,000 population, while 80 per cent were not even members of the Federal Reserve system. In addition, evidences of mismanagement were found in some of the institutions, indicating that the closing was not entirely because of any fundamental weakness in the banking structure.

Bank suspensions during the first 11 months of 1930 as reported by the Federal Reserve board numbered 981 and involved deposits of $515,000,000, while in the nine-year period from 1921 to 1929, inclusive, there were 5,642 suspensions, involving deposits of $1,722,456,000. Failures continued during December, culminated by the closing of the Bank of United States in New York City. Few of these banks have yet reopened their doors.

Security Prices Drop
The increase in 1930 bank suspensions, according to a recent survey by the National City bank of New York, probably is no greater than should have been expected in view of the severe drop in security prices, farm products and other commodities and the slump in business generally.

Reviewing the banking situation particularly with respect to the large number of suspensions in 1930, Rome C. Stephenson, president of the American Bankers' association, declared today that to some extent the bank must take a passive role, and that its policies reflect business practices. Many business firms, he said, are finding difficulty in meeting their obligations, so that the difficulties of the banks are thereby increased.

The vast bulk of bank assets, however, are "100 per cent sound above all question."

MARKETS

MARKET DULL IN MORNING TRADES

Stocks Maintain Heavy
Undertone; Losses Of Point Recorded

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Stocks maintained a heavy undertone in the earlier trading today. Losses of a point in the leaders during the first half hour were halved, but the market was very dull on the recovery.

Weakness of Goodyear Rubber was conspicuous and the stock dropped more than 3 points. American Telephone made up a one-point loss. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse reduced similar declines to fractions.

There was moderate strength in a few relatively inactive shares, notably Beatrice Creamery, A. M. Byers, Anaconda Wire & Cable, McKeesport Tin Plate, Armor of Illinois preferred, St. Louis Southern preferred and Illinois central.

Call money renewed at 1-1-2 per cent.

COURT NEWS
Demurrer Sustained
A demurrer to the petition has been sustained by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court in the case of Ruth E. Wilson against the City of Salem. This is a damage suit, the plaintiff seeking the recovery of $10,100 from the defendant. The case has been pending since July 22, 1929.

A motion for a new trial has been overruled by the court in the case of William McCarty against Conrad Berg, and a judgment entered against McCarty for the costs. Berg obtained a verdict Dec. 3 last.

In the case of John Drake against Raymond T. Reese, a motion for a new trial has been overruled, and a judgment on the verdict entered in favor of the defendant, and against Drake for the costs.

Settlement Recorded
After a verdict for $1,000 was returned by a jury Nov. 21 last in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Grace B. O'Hanlon against Montgomery Ward Co., there has been a settlement entered on the record and at the costs of the defendant.

The court has overruled a motion for a new trial in the case of Maxine Duke against L. W. Young, and exceptions for the plaintiff entered. A judgment has been entered by the court on the verdict for the defendant, and against the plaintiff for the costs.

R. W. Firestone has been appointed receiver to serve without compensation, and by agreement, without bond, in the case of the Firestone Bank against Anna and Samuel Moran and others. This is an action in foreclosure.

May Answer Petition
Leave to the defendant to answer the petition of the plaintiff on or before Feb. 2, has been granted in the case of Earl C. Miller against Grace H. Fraser.

In the case of Clement A. Ferguson against George Cornell and others, leave has been granted the defendant to answer on or before Jan. 19.

Nellie and O. C. Caldwell have been granted leave to file their answer at once in the case filed against them by the City of Lisbon an action seeking the removal of a noobstruction from the property of the defendants.

In the appeal case of O. E. Stanton against A. R. Stoner, an appeal, leave has been granted the defendant to plead at once.

Lists Three Petitions
H. R. Mackall of Negley has been granted leave to file his answer in three petitions filed against him by David Feldstein, F. H. Murphy and P. I. Powers, with Jan. 12 being set as the answer date.

Leave to the defendant to answer by Jan. 17 has been granted in the case of Warren J. Weikart, a Guardian against Paul C. Heise and others.

Richard F. White, defendant in a suit filed against him by Ivah Underwood, has been granted leave to plead at once.

Osborne C. Farmer, plaintiff in a divorce suit filed against him by his wife, Cleo Farmer, has been ordered by Judge Lones to pay his wife $50 as counsel fees within 60 days, and in addition to begin the immediate payment of $10 weekly for her support. The case came before the court on a motion for temporary alimony.

The following real estate transfers have been filed for record:

Affidavit for transfer of real estate inherited from Martha Chappell by Richard Chappell and nine other heirs, lot 7, Strawn's addition; Salem.

Nettie Hannay and others to Richard Chappell, same tract; 100. Ralph K. Smith to S. M. Petric, lot 410 Market street, East Liverpool; $5.

AIR SQUADRON OVER ATLANTIC ON BRAZIL HOP

12 Italian Seaplanes Begin
1,600-Mile Trip To South America

BULLETIN
FERNANDO DO NORONHA, BRAZIL, Jan. 6.—Six planes of General Italo Balbo's trans-Atlantic fleet passed over this island, 125 miles from the mainland at 2:55 o'clock this afternoon. (11:55 a. m., E. S. T.).

(By Associated Press)
BOLAMA, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 6.—Twelve Italian seaplanes struck southwestward across the equatorial Atlantic today toward Natal, Brazil, in one of the most ambitious flight projects in the history of aviation.

Undeterred by bad weather the planes took off one by one at 2 a. m., G. M. T. (9 p. m., E. S. T. Monday), and in murky darkness began the trip of more than 1,600 miles to the northeastern tip of South America.

With a cruising speed of 100 miles per hour, their commander, General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister, hoped to reach Natal in between 16 and 20 hours, or between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. Natal time (5 p. m., and 9 p. m., E. S. T.) today.

The flight is the longest and most difficult lap of a nearly 6,000-mile air journey begun with the departure of 14 Savoia seaplanes from Orbetello, Italy, for Rio De Janeiro. The flight may be continued to Buenos Aires, which would make the total trip around 7,000 miles.

Stationed between Bolama and Natal were 12 Italian cruisers and other vessels, ready to race to the assistance of any of the squadron which might find it necessary to come down in mid-Atlantic.

As the planes took off the first of the cruisers was notified by radio of the departure and word flashed along the course of the other ships, each of which sought to sight the squadron and flash the word back to Rome.

With two exceptions, one so minor as to be hardly considered, the way is over open water with no intermediate landfall. About 125 miles northeast of Natal is Fernando do Noronha, Brazilian penal colony island, and between that and Bolama the lonely island known as St. Paul's Rocks, used as a cable landing station. The latter would hardly offer any shelter should the planes be forced down.

For the first eight hours the fliers expected to encounter warm and moderate northeast trade winds, and between the eighth and tenth hours the great zone of equatorial calms were light winds predominating and where there are apt to be light rains.

Between the tenth and twentieth hours the squadron expected through strong southeast trade winds with a fairly clear sky. Near the Brazilian coast the aviators were warned to expect heavy rains and low visibility.

Each of the 12 planes carried four men, two pilots, a mechanic and a radio operator. Two of the 14 planes which flew from Orbetello remained here. They came this far as spares to fill in should they be needed.

The planes flew in four groups of three each, the first three being painted black, the second three red, the third three white, and the last three green, the colors of Fascism, and of the Italian tri-color. All members of the crews are members of the Fascist party.

DEATHS

F. C. O'NEIL
W. H. O'Neil has returned from Denver, Colo., where he attended the funeral of his brother, F. C. O'Neil, 47, who died suddenly Dec. 26. Heart trouble is given as the cause of death.

F. C. O'Neil was a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. O'Neil and was born and reared in Salem. He had lived in Denver for 18 years and was superintendent for the Griffith Wheel company in that city.

Besides his widow and one child, he is survived by several brothers and sisters.

WILBUR AGAINST TARIFF ON OIL

Would Be of Little Value to Small
Producer, in Opinion of
Secretary

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary Wilbur today declared himself against a tariff on oil.

Such a tariff, as proposed from time to time by some of the leading producers and recently by E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum institute would be of little value to the small producer, the secretary asserted.

"The chief result," he said, "would be that the big companies, which now have many wells shut in and not in operation, would open them up, adding to the production. Overproduction is the basic ill of the industry."

"Besides this," he added, "our imports of petroleum are negligible, forming only about 10 per cent of the production. Our exports account for 15 per cent of the total production."

Grocer Arrested In Welfare Fraud

DAYTON, Jan. 6.—Police arrested Oscar Blum, local grocer, yesterday, and held him in jail under $2,000 bond on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Police said he was cashing for $250 requisition cards worth $3.60 given unemployed persons who had worked for the city. The cards are good for $3.60 payable by the Family Welfare department after local grocers have exchanged groceries for the cards.

Trial On Decision Of Judge Advanced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The appeal of the United States to test the recent decision of Judge Clark holding the prohibition amendment invalid today was advanced by the supreme court for hearing on Wednesday, Jan. 21.

Chief Justice Hughes made this announcement today and said it would be heard ahead of all cases awaiting hearing on that date.

Undefeated Teams To Clash In Class A League Game Tonight

THE DAY In Sports

LARGE CROWD AT GAME
LEAGUE GAMES TONIGHT

Approximately 1,200 fans witnessed the three Salem High victories over East Liverpool High teams here Saturday night. It was the largest crowd to attend a basketball game since the Salem-Youngstown South High battle of 1926 when about 1,350 fans packed the gymnasium to capacity. Included in the attendance figures for Saturday's game are about 500 students, 263 fans who paid 50 cents for general admission seats, 254 who paid 75 cents for reserved seats and 72 25-cent admissions.

Games for the rest of the year will be held with reserved seats selling for 50 cents under the "first come, first served" system. The reserved seats can be obtained at the Lease Drug store, East State and South Lincoln ave. The 75-cent a seat plan was for use only in the Salem-Liverpool and Salem-Alliance games but will be dropped, school officials said today. All seats will be sold at 50 cents but reservations will be continued as usual.

Plenty of fans are expected to witness the two city league leaders in action at the Memorial building tonight. The leaders—Golden Eagles and Grove Electrics—share first place with two victories each, tonight's winner getting undisputed possession of first place in the league race.

City league activities, both in Class A and Class B, are furnishing great entertainment for many Salem basketball fans. Despite the fact that only four teams are in the main circuit this season, interest is maintained at a high key and several will watch the titular contenders do battle.

"Who won the Salem-Alumni basketball game?" High school fans claim the verdict and members of the alumni team are emphatic in claims that they were victors. The game, however, will be recorded in official records of the season as a 34-33 decision for Coach Stone's basketballers.

The unofficial decision goes to the alumni who outscored the scholastic quintet but still won't be credited with victory in records because rules demand that the score of the official scorer be taken as the official result of the game. Ninety-nine per cent of the fans witnessed the contest went home convinced that the alumni won but what does it matter?

So, the records now show the Red and Black varsity as having won three games and lost three. Not the scores down in the red schedules as follows:

Salem 25, Canton McKinley 36; Salem 17 Akron East 21; Salem 23 Massillon 22; Salem 34 Alumni 33; Salem 25 Alliance 28; Salem 23 Liverpool 22.

Hard hit by graduation as her team was Coach Esther Peterson has developed a fairly strong team to represent Salem High in effeminate basketball activities this season. Outplayed by East Liverpool for at least three periods, the Quaker lassies came from behind with a great spurt that indicated them as an outstanding contender for county titular honors.

Nominating C. C. Gibson, president of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation as one of Salem's most fair-minded and enthusiastic athletic fans.

WARREN ROLLERS SET UP RECORD

Salem Moose Victims In High Score Match By Thomas Steel Five

What is believed to have established a new all-time record in Mahoning Valley tenpin bowling competition was established by the Trumbull Steel quintet of Warren in a special match with the Salem Moose at Warren. The Warren outfit totaled 3,242 against the Salem rollers.

Jack Almer of Warren hit three games for 245, 256 and 224 for a total of 735, Matt Welsh getting 718 for three games of 215, 245 and 258.

Golden Eagle Cagers Meet Grove Electrics In Important Contest

Salem's leading contenders for Class A titular honors, the Golden Eagle merchants and the R. E. Grove Electric quintet, battle for the municipal basketball leadership in the main cage duel scheduled at the Memorial building tonight.

The merchants, victorious in the 1929-30 Class A campaign, have won two straight games, defeating the Electric Furnace and McArthur Florists. The Electrics hold decisive victories over both these teams, a hard fought battle being anticipated when the two leaders clash.

Use Regular Teams
The Golden Eagle, backed by Solbert Greenberger, will use Max Caplan and his brother Nate at forwards; Herman Litty at center, with Les Older and John (Pete) Sanders at the guard positions. Raymond Grove, backer of the Electrics, will oppose this combination with Bruce Cope at center; Paul Fogg and Jimmy Scullion at forward, and Walter (Pete) Harsh and Evan Jenkins at guards. Bunker Hill will play forward.

The McArthur Florists and Electric Furnace, underdogs in the Class A race, will meet in the first game, scheduled at 7:30. Both have powerful aggregations and although to date they have failed to flash strength equal to that of the two

Groves Play Quakers

The R. E. Grove Electric Co., cage team, now tied for first place in Salem Class A league, battles the strong Damascus Quakers outfit at the Goshen Township High gym in Damascus Thursday night.

HEAD OF N. B. A. REVIEWS FIGHT GAME FOR 1930

Major Clinkin Declares
Fistic Racket Good
In Past Year

BY MAJ. GEN. JOHN V. CLINKIN
President, National Boxing Ass'n.
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The year 1930 was an exceptionally prosperous year for boxing and wrestling, despite business and industrial depressions.

It was a year of upsets for champions. The Sharkey-Schmeling contest in June was most unsatisfactory, owing to the passing of the title on a foul and because of the early departure of Schmeling for Europe, his failure to defend title within the time limit fixed by the rules of the National Boxing Association, all of which has caused this organization to vote on the proposition of vacating the title. The International Boxing Union of Europe has an eight months' rule by which the title is automatically vacated if the champion fails to defend within that period of time.

Rosenbloom Wins Title
In the light heavyweight class, Maxie Rosenbloom won his title from Jimmy Slattery on June 25, and successfully defended it against Abie Bain, on Oct. 22.

Mickey Walker was deposed from the throne as middleweight champion by the National association, he not having defended the title since his fight with Ace Hudkins, Oct. 29, 1929. The title in this case now is open.

In the welterweight division, Tommy Freeman furnished the first upset when he defeated Jackie Fields, Sept. 5, 1930, but has not risked the title since then.

Berg Trims Callahan
The junior welterweight champion, Jack (Kid) Berg, defeated Mushy Callahan for the title on Feb. 17, 1930 at London, England, and not having defended it within the six months' period, the National association has given notice that it will be vacated.

The lightweight division furnished two earthquakes during the year. Sammy Mandell was knocked out by Al Singer on July 18 and Singer was knocked out by Tony Camozzi on Nov. 14.

In the junior lightweight class, Benny Bass won the title on Dec. 20, 1929, from Tod Morgan, and having failed to defend it within the time limit is now in danger of having it vacated.

Battalino Champion
The featherweight champion, Battalino Battalino, of Connecticut, successfully defended his title on Dec. 12, 1930, against Kid Chocolate.

In the bantamweight class, Al Brown had held the title since 1929 but the National association ordered the title vacated.

Frankie Genaro has held the title of flyweight champion since Feb. 6, 1928, and retained it by boxing Midgert Wolgast to a draw at New York, Dec. 26, 1930.

Clark, Philadelphia, (6); Harry Blitman, Philadelphia, knocked out Al Gordon, Philadelphia, (1).

TORONTO—Jackie Phillips, Toronto, outpointed Jack Gillespie, Detroit, (8).

CANFIELD COURT TEAM EASY FOR GOLDEN EAGLES

Salem Cagers Surprise In
Sensational 50-19 Win
Over Olympic Club

Canfield Olympics, highly touted as one of Northeastern Ohio's strongest independent cage aggregations, fell before the strong offensive attack of Salem's Class A championship basketball quintet, the Golden Eagles, by a 50-19 score at the Memorial building Monday.

The Salem quintet upset all dope in annihilating the visitors in easy fashion, holding a wide edge in play throughout the contest. They held a 11-5 lead at the close of the first period, increased it to 23-7 at the half and were ahead 39-15 when the fourth quarter got under way.

Canfield never had a chance. Schwartzoff, Litty and Older, Solbert Greenberger's "big three", collecting a total of 41 points between them. The result of the contest made the merchants heavy favorites to trim the Grove Electrics in their league clash tonight. Summary—

Carideo To Assist Coaching At Purdue

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Frank Carideo, all-American quarterback on this year's Notre Dame football team, will serve as assistant to Nob's Kiser, Purdue head coach, next season.

Carideo announced his acceptance of the Purdue post here last night at an official "welcome home" ceremony tendered him by his fellow townsmen.

BIG TEN CHAMPS MEET MICHIGAN

Purdue Seeks Victory In Game At Ann Arbor;
Wisconsin Leads

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Some idea of Purdue's chance of retaining the Western conference basketball championship will be determined tonight at Ann Arbor where the boilermakers tackle Michigan.

The Wolverines are hoping that history will repeat itself—but in reverse. A year ago Michigan, the defending champion, opened its season at Purdue and took a 23 to 19 beating.

Wisconsin today was the leader of the race by virtue of its victory last night over Illinois in the inaugural of the Big Ten season. The badgers' man to man defense was just a little tighter than Illinois' and they gained a 12 to 9 decision.

Iowa was given a terrific battle by Drake last night but squirmed out with a 21 to 20 victory, gaining an even break in its four game practice season. Minnesota made a sweep of its five-game set by defeating Iowa State, 29 to 17.

Chicago and Ohio State also will play tonight, but against non-conference opponents. The maroons, showing promise of being much improved over last season, meet Marquette at Milwaukee. Ohio will meet Notre Dame at South Bend.

This gas burner makes your coal furnace an automatic heating plant... at a very low cost

YOUR heating labors and worries are over... the drudgery, dirt and annoyances of hand fired methods are shadows of the past when your coal furnace is converted into an automatic gas heating plant by the Surface Combustion Gas Burner.

The change can be made in a few hours' time without any bother or inconvenience to you and without changing your present heating system. And the job is guaranteed to operate to your complete satisfaction.

Easy to Pay For

SO LOW is the cost of equipment and so liberal is the two-year payment plan that any family who can afford a good washing machine or a first class radio can enjoy the comfort and convenience of automatic gas heat and never miss the small payments!

Estimate Free

IF YOU are at all interested in automatic heating, if you would like to free the family of the nuisance and hardship of old fashioned methods, if Winter time health protection means anything to you, we suggest you send for one of our heating men to explain the costs and benefits of gas heat.

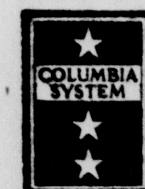

Please do not feel obligated—our Heating Man's mission is to be of service in acquainting you with just how automatic gas heat will work out in your home. He will examine your present heating system, compute its efficiency, measure up the heat requirements for the type of your house construction, and then supply you with a reliable estimate of your season's fuel bill.

SPECIAL LIBERAL TERMS

Low Down Payment. No further payments till April.

24 months for the balance. You pay only $1 monthly in December, January and February.

Ask for free estimate and liberal allowances.
No obligations.

MOVIES

"MADAM SATAN"

At The State

"Madam Satan," which opened last night at the State Theatre, most certainly upholds Cecil B. De Mille's long sustained reputation of being a master in the realm of the exotic and unusual.

The M-G-M director's new comedy with music, touches upon about every conceivable phase of entertainment. It treats of domestic discord. It has spicy and clever scenes in milady's boudoir. It takes you to a gorgeous masked ball aboard a Zeppelin, and finally brings you to a nerve racking climax as the airship tears loose from its mooring mast, and the guests jump for safety in parachutes.

And all of this excitement is coated over by eight musical numbers and three special ballads, making "Madam Satan" a well rounded eye and ear attraction.

Reginald Denny and Kay Johnson are the two principals, and they do splendidly. Both have delightful voices. Roland Young is delightful as the comic Jimmy and Lillian Roth does a fine piece of work as "the other woman."

"THE SPOILERS"

At The Grand

Barbers of Hollywood recently spent many hopeful hours honing razors in anticipation of the day Paramount completed recording of "The Spoilers."

Many extras used in the feature, now playing at the Grand Theatre, were ordered by Director Edwin Carewe to remain unshaved all during the course of production. Barbers were scarce in Alaska, at the time of which Rex Beach wrote, and the gold-hungry citizens of the town were not particular about their appearance.

The consequence was that bearded men became epidemic on Hollywood's streets and boulevards.

In the opinion of those who witnessed the fight which Gary Cooper and William Boyd staged with an acre of heavily "wooded" faces providing a grim and solid background, this struggle is the greatest hand-to-hand encounter ever staged for the sound camera.

The principals entered the fracas with full knowledge that they were expected to surpass the tumultuous set-to of William Farnum and Tom Santschi for Selig's 1913 silent version.

An unusually able featured cast appears in support of Cooper for "The Spoilers." Included are Kay Johnson, Betty Compton, James Kirkwood, Harry Green, "Slim" Summerville and Lloyd Ingraham. In addition there are over five hundred "hardboiled" types.

Persons who want anything know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Columbus-New York Train Is Derailed

(By United Press)
 PATASKALA, O., Jan. 6.—Pennsylvania passenger train No. 26, bound from Columbus to New York, was derailed west of the station here early today, causing service to be delayed several hours. None of the passengers was injured.
 A broken rail caused the last four cars of the passenger train to leave the track, it was said, the cars were not damaged and were taken back to Columbus after the passengers were transferred to train No. 154, which proceeded eastward.
 The train that was derailed was operating between St. Louis and New York.

WANTED MONEY TO AID BROTHER

Girl Bandit In Attempted Holdup Of Monroe Bank Questioned By Police

(By Associated Press)
 MONROE, O., Jan. 6.—Mrs. America Longworth, 19-year-old mother of Franklin, O., who is alleged to have attempted to rob the Monroe National bank in company with two men, was quoted by police today as saying she wanted to get funds to help her brother fight a robbery charge.

The brother, Albert Higgins, is being held in Warren county on a charge of holding up a taxi-cab driver. At first she claimed her husband was out of work and she was trying to get money for her seven-months-old baby.

The girl and two youths who gave their names as Noel Craft, 16, and Rex Wireman, 20, both of Middletown, were captured in a woods near here shortly after Austin Smith, 38, cashier of the bank, said he spotted their attempted holdup by opening fire.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal.—"The town is yours" really meant something to Robert Hayes Smith, oil operator. Smith bought the entire town of Capitola in a deal in connection with a foreclosure action involving $360,000 in mortgages.

NEW YORK—The Chase National bank seems to lead the world. The resources of $2,697,328,855 given in its year-end statement are unequaled in banking history.

SCHOOL NEEDS ARE ESTIMATED AT $240,000

Today Cooper Stresses Taxation, Welfare Program

APPROPRIATION MEASURE SHOWS BOOST IN FUND

$236,668.82 Will Be Requested From County In Taxes

$8,500 ALLOTTED TO IMPROVEMENTS

Annexation Of New Area Prompts Increase In Requirements

COLUMBUS, Jan. 6. — The house and senate of the general assembly recessed until 2 p. m. today after hearing Gov. Cooper deliver his last message, personally.

Estimating financial needs of Salem public schools during the year at more than $240,000, members of the board of education last night passed the annual appropriation ordinance, unanimously, at their first meeting of the year.

A total of $236,668.82 will be requested from Columbiana county in taxes through the ordinance which appropriates finances to various school departments. This represents an increase of more than $27,000 over 1930 appropriations, the result of the annexation of Perry township school districts to city school districts and general increase in need of additional funds for school purposes.

Improvements Planned
The board provided $8,500 for improvements contemplated during the present year, the main item on the program being the completion of Reilly athletic stadium through the construction of a concrete and brick wall on the west side of the field. The board also indicated that the bond issue to provide funds for the construction of a new senior high school will again be placed before Salem voters at the November election this year.

The year's apportionments provide $116,000 for the payment of teachers' salaries, it being the largest sum required for this purpose in history of Salem schools. Last year a total of $110,000, the former high mark, was needed for payment of salaries. The amount stipulated for this year does not include payment of salaries for administrative offices or special instructors and teachers. Cuts were effected in various funds in order to allow for the increase in needs for the teachers' salary fund. Last year $20,000 was appropriated for the improvement of school sites, part of which fund was devoted to the construction of additional bleacher seats and a brick and concrete wall on the east side of Reilly stadium.

Other Sources To Aid
The board estimated that $236,668.82 will be forthcoming from the county from taxation assessments and figured that an additional $4,000 or $4,500 will be available from other sources.

The complete list of the year's appropriations follows:
Administration—$6,000; instruction—$116,000; coordinate activities (dental inspections, school nurse, etc.), $1,300; auxiliary agencies—$1,300; playground employees, school librarians—$2,120; operation of schools, janitors and other employees—$13,380.

School supplies—$22,250; materials for maintenance of schools—$2,500; special services—$390; equipment replacements—$750; contract and open order services—$15,850 (includes school building repair fund of $7,000); fixed charges and contributions—$7,700; capital outlay, (includes improvement of school sites)—$6,500; unanticipated emergencies—$3,000.

Football In Peru
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 6.—After a football game in Lima, Peru, five were killed. They only kill ten in a revolution down there, so two games equals one revolution.

Up here, we don't kill our football players; we make coaches out of the smartest ones and send the others to the legislature.

HOPE DEFERRED. MEN FEAR DEATH. THE POPE WILL SPEAK.

By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." That's in the Bible, and it is also in a decision handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals, telling Judge Clark of New Jersey that he was mistaken. The prohibition amendment was adopted legally. It stands, and is the law of the land. To which you may add that the amendment won't be repealed for many a day.

"Men fear death, as children fear to go in the dark, and as that natural fear in children is increased with tales, so is the other."

So Bacon said of our most widespread fear.

Marshal Jeffre, who has the gratitude of his nation following him to the grave, quoted often the saying "nul ne peut se dire heureux avant son dernier jour." "No man can call himself happy, until his last day."

"Death hath ten thousand doors for men to take their exit."—They all lead to peace, rest, freedom from the world's worries, responsibilities and anxieties. It is fortunate for the race that divine wisdom makes us cling to life. If we were all as wise as Bacon and as philosophical as the old Greeks, many would be missing.

Major General Brown, chief of army engineers, says the United States government is virtually "at the mercy of the Alabama Power Co. in disposing of Muscle Shoals power."

That statement should interest somebody. When they told Andrew Jackson something like that concerning a great bank, his reply was that if there existed any such power he would crush it, "by the eternal," and he did.

Engineers report that the $171,547,000 St. Lawrence river power project, as now planned, will eliminate "about 75 per cent of the hazards incident to such construction."

The project, according to engineers, will develop 2,000,000 horse power.

Nothing could be more interesting or important, since power is everything in man's industrial work, equalling in importance fresh air, and water.

The public would like to know about one hazard, however, namely, the hazard of having the power after the people build it fall into private hands. Will there be a private company in the United States charging one price for the power, and a publicly-owned company in Canada charging for the same power, exactly half the price charged in the United States? That is the situation at Niagara.

An encyclical to be issued by Pope Pius this week will reaffirm emphatically the Catholic doctrine on marriage, and is expected to express forceful disapprobation of birth control.

The pope will stipulate in the case of marriage between Catholics and those of other religions, that the non-Catholic party to the marriage must guarantee that any children born will be brought up as Catholics, and that the right of the Catholic party to worship will

Shares, However, Listed In Owners' Names; Ruling Cited

LIBSON, Jan. 6.—On Jan. 31, 1930, the tax commission of Ohio issued instructions concerning the listing of bank stockholders in reference to the tax duplicate prepared for the various institutions that make a practice of collecting taxes. As the duplicates prepared for these various institutions had at that time been delivered, the names of national bank stockholders did not appear on the lists, but such names were placed on the county treasurer's duplicate.

Stockholders informed Banks paid the taxes on these shares just as they always had done, but the matter did not come to the attention of the individual owners of national bank stock. On the duplicate lists furnished the collectors this year, the list of national bank stockholders necessarily appears.

A careful reading of the tax commission order, it has been explained by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, will reveal that while the names of stockholders do appear on the lists, conditions are not changed regarding the payment of the tax, and that it is still the business of the bank to pay the tax just as it

Wilford Sheeley and Mrs. V. E. Crouse of North Lima grange were in charge of the installation of officers for Goshen grange and its juvenile grange at a special meeting Monday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem.

They were assisted in the work by Fred Morgan and Joshua Crouse, marshals; Miss Mary Sheeley and Billy Thompson, regalia bearers; Mrs. Wilford Sheeley and Miss Mildred Sheeley, emblem bearers, and Mrs. Fred Morgan, pianist.

There were visitors from Willow Grove and Smith granges. A supper was held in connection with the installation.

WARNS AGAINST ANY SYSTEM TO INCREASE RATES

Governor Delivers Final Address To General Assembly

MESSAGE REVIEWS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Relief For Farmer And Home Owner Urged By Executive

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 6.—Development of a taxation program that will require those not paying their just share of taxes to pay more and those now paying more than their just share to pay less, and a welfare program carrying out the recommendations of his special welfare committee were subjects stressed most by Governor Cooper in his final message to the general assembly delivered personally today.

Without making specific recommendations for new tax laws, the governor warned against adoption of any system that will increase taxes. He commended the reports of his special taxation committee for the assembly's consideration.

Reviews Accomplishments
The message was a review of accomplishments of the work of the last legislature and of his administration during the last two years, punctuated now and then with recommendations for additional legislation.

Chief among specific recommendations made by Mr. Cooper were: Legislation calling for the use of non-explosive films in anti-air developments and destruction of all explosive films now in the files of the state industrial commission. These recommendations being made as a result of the Cleveland Clinic disaster.

Revision of the workmen's compensation law to require the state and political subdivisions to contribute sufficiently for their injured workmen and to insure equal protection for dependents of all persons killed in industry.

Urges One Fund
Elimination of all special funds now handled by the state, throwing them all into the general revenue fund.

Set Women's Flight Record

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—A new refueling endurance flight record for women was hung up today by Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper.

At 9:46 a. m. the girl pilots surpassed by one hour the previous mark of 42 hours, 16 minutes, which was set months ago by Miss Trout and Elinor Smith, of New York.

It was a chilly morning for the record-breaking with winds sweeping over the Municipal airport, scene of the flight, from the snow-capped ridge of the Hollywood mountains, bordering the city. But the new record was insufficient compensation for numbed fingers and the flight went on, now aimed at the men's record of 645 hours.

FARMERS PLAN TWO-DAY MEET AT GREENFORD

J. W. Farnsworth, Mrs. Lottie Randolph Institute Speakers

J. W. Farnsworth of Waterville, and Mrs. Lottie M. Randolph of New Lexington, are the state speakers for the Greenford Farmers' Institute, which will be held Wednesday and Thursday, at the high school in Greenford.

Farnsworth is president and manager of the W. G. Farnsworth Orchards company, which owns and operates 190 acres of fruit land. He has made trips to the west coast and into the south for the purpose of studying the methods of growing, marketing and transportation of the principal fruit crops and vegetables. He is active in church, educational and civic organizations.

Economics Instructor
Mrs. Randolph's qualifications for farmers' institute lecture work include instruction in home economics at Ohio State university and leadership of women's projects in Perry county extension service. She is a Sunday school teacher, president of the New Lexington League of Women voters, and superintendent of the Junior department, Ohio conference, Women's Foreign Missionary society.

R. C. Lamb of Washingtonville is president of the institute. E. R. Kurtz of Washingtonville is secretary and Mrs. Robert Shepherd of Greenford is lady correspondent.

The institute will open at 9:30

MULLINS NAMED PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To Succeed Emeny When Latter Retires In March

ATTY. JOEL SHARP IS VICE PRESIDENT

Miss Betty Miller Secretary To Superintendent Alan

(By Associated Press)

Frederick P. Mullins was elected president of the board of education to succeed F. J. Emeny at the 1931 reorganization meeting of the board Monday night.

Mullins was elected by unanimous vote, being advanced to the presidency from position of vice-president by Atty. Joel H. Sharp.

Emeny President 10 Years
Mullins is a graduate of Salem High school and Yale university. He is now affiliated with the A. E. Masten and Co., brokers, of Pittsburgh.

Emeny, president of the board for more than 10 years and for 20 years a board member, submitted his resignation as a member to take effect immediately. The resignation was tabled by unanimous vote of members present, Clyde R. Reich, R. B. Snyder and Sharp.

The former president's resignation was refused following which he agreed to continue with the board until its meeting in March when further action will be taken on the matter.

Emeny submitted the resignation to Clerk Albert Hayes and asked that it be accepted because of his long and continued service, covering a period of 20 years. He said he had contemplated resigning for more than a year and refused the nomination for his eleventh year as president.

Will Name Committees
Mullins, the new president, will name various committees for 1931 at the board's February meeting.

Miss Betty Miller of Salem was elected secretary to Superintendent John S. Alan.

Miss Miller will succeed Mrs. Nellie K. Springer who served as the board's secretary for 16 years. She is a graduate of Salem High school, Salem Business college and attended Western Reserve college at Cleveland.

Miss Elizabeth Steer of Damascus was elected public school nurse by unanimous vote of the board.

NEW HEARING IN MERGER DENIED

Sheet, Tube Executives To Hold Conference In Cleveland Today

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 6.—Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins today denied an application for a new hearing in the injunction suit to prevent the merger of Bethlehem Steel corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

No hearing was sought on the application, which was filed after Judge Jenkins granted the injunction December 29. The denial today merely took the form of a docket entry.

The application and its denial clear the legal path for an appeal on error, if the defending companies decide to follow that course. Officials of both companies have said that no decision as to their future course has been reached as yet.

Immediately after Judge Jenkins' decision was announced a conference of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company executives, directors and counsel was summoned in Cleveland.

A contingent including the local counsel and all the company's directors living in Youngstown who voted for the merger left for Newton D. Baker's office in Cleveland within an hour after Judge Jenkins made his docket entry.

Christian Church To Meet Wednesday

The Christian church will hold its annual congregational meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Officers will be elected for 1931, both for the official board and Sunday school. In addition, reports are to be made of the last year's activities in all of the departments and organizations of the church.

A special program of musical selections has been prepared and will occupy the first part of the service.

Following the business session the newly elected officers will meet to organize the official board of 1931.

TEACHERS' PAY TO BE DELAYED; FUNDS LACKING

County Unable To Grant Requests For Cash Advances

Lacking funds with which to meet checks, the board of education will be forced to delay bi-monthly payments of salaries to teachers in Salem public schools until after Jan. 20, it was announced at the board's first meeting of 1931 Monday night.

Advance Requests Refused
The checks are scheduled for issuance this Friday, Clerk Albert Hayes said, but it will be impossible for the board to pay the salaries. Requests for an advance in money from the county was refused by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker who explained to Hayes that no funds have been turned in to Fred George, county treasurer, by tax collectors in Salem.

It will be the first time in more than 20 years school officials say that the board will not be able to provide for teachers' salaries upon the scheduled date.

Salaries for school teachers total more than $6,000 every two weeks, only $2,000 now being available. All bills are being held up by the board in an effort to collect funds from every available source towards the amount needed for salaries while a last-minute effort for an advance will again be made by Hayes.

"No taxes have been collected from Salem, so of course the county has no money to send to the schools," Walker told the board. "The county can promise no money for sometime but we urge that the board take action in requesting tax collectors in Salem to remit funds to the county treasurer as soon as possible."

Tax collections are proceeding slowly and it is probable that the board will not receive its February settlement until April.

William Watkins I. O. O. F. Speaker

William T. Watkins, of Marietta, grand master of the Ohio Odd Fellows, was a guest of Odd Fellows of this district at a meeting Monday evening of Amity lodge No. 124, I. O. O. F., at the hall, South Broadway.

Watkins gave an address. The meeting was concluded with a social period and refreshments.

There were 149 in attendance including representatives from all the lodges in the district. They came from Alliance, East Palestine, Damascus, Sebring, Washingtonville, Columbiana and Lisbon.

PERFECT MONTHS
The national committee on calendar simplification is brightly hopeful that 1931 may go down in history as the year in which it was decided that the calendar given the world in 40 B. C. had outlived its usefulness and that a better system of arranging the days, weeks and months was adopted by civilized nations. Admission for the committee's cheery outlook is tempered by conviction that the world moves very slowly in such matters.

At any rate, 1931 brings an opportunity to the calendar reformers to show the world a rare phenomenon—a perfect month. It cannot happen again until 1942, unless the calendar be changed before that time.

The perfect month is February, which this year begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday, the exact pattern proposed for the reformed calendar. To make all months conform to the pattern it would be necessary, of course, to add a 13th month, which would gather up all 29th, 30th and 31st dates by taking in the last 13 days of June and the first 15 days of July. The principal result would be to eliminate the confusion caused by the incessant change in the present months. An incidental result of the reform would be to "fix" all church festivals to perpetual dates. Days of the week would fall no longer on different dates of different months because the months all would be the same. Christmas and all holidays would fall on Monday. Each year would end on Year Day, the one day in each year in excess of 52 weeks not absorbed by the extra month. Every four years the added day in leap year would occur on June 29 and be known as Leap day. In short, the reformed calendar would be the complete fulfillment of a long-cherished business dream, and would, in the matter of holidays and festival days, eliminate much confusion in other activities.

It will be accepted eventually, perhaps sooner than skeptics would be willing to set a date. In its way, however, it is perfection, and it may be expected that the world will be slow to move toward it.

SELLING POSSIBILITIES
The front of the jacket on a recent issue of a magazine published semi-monthly by the Amtorg trading corp to place the facts of Russia's economic development before the American people bears the following summary of contents:

Analysis of Soviet purchases in the United States.
Recent Amtorg orders.
Development of socialized restaurants.

Industry in October.
Accompanying these topics is a photograph of the blast furnace of the Volkov Steel Plant at Kerch, in the Crimea. It is a sample of 16 excellent photographs in the body of the magazine affording visible proof of the progress toward industrial construction being made in Russia.

Under the heading "Soviet Purchases in the United States" one reads that Soviet American trade has expanded rapidly since regular trade transactions were resumed in 1913. It is stated that of 38 countries listed doing business with the United States the Soviet alone increased its purchases in this country during the first 10 months of 1930; that during the fiscal year 1929-30 (ending Sept. 30, 1930) Soviet purchases in the United States reached the record total of $149,223,000. In the course of the last seven years Soviet purchases have more than trebled, constituting 80 percent of the total Soviet-American trade turnover of $750,777,000. Purchases for the Soviet during this period were four times as great as sales, while the balance of trade in favor of the United States totaled $448,000,000. United States customs data for the first 10 months of 1930 show that the Soviet ranked eighth among the 38 countries of American products, having increased with eighteenth place in the first 10 months of 1929.

Under "Recent Amtorg orders" are listed orders for $270,000 worth of disc plows, $40,000 worth of tractors, $50,000 worth of cultivators, $100,000 worth of Ford spare parts, $300,000 worth of engines, $325,000 worth of metals and other orders of similar proportions.

The section on "socialized restaurants" is a terse account of the development of that project and a statement that by the end of 1931 no less than 70 to 80 per cent of the workers in the basic industries will be provided with socialized eating places.

"Industry in October," a detailed account, shows that the volume of production in all branches of large-scale industry was 2.3 per cent higher in October than in September, and 20.1 per cent above October, 1929.

It is fascinating reading, even to minds untrained to grasp its significance in detail. A country, made a pariah by reason of the unpopular social doctrine its political leaders preach, is being sold to the world on the strength of its accomplishments. The magazine described is but a small part of the vast propagandizing machine supported by the Soviet; the brand of salesmanship it exercises is decidedly indirect by comparison. Slowly, but ever so surely, the sales resistance of the United States is yielding—not to communism, not to the Soviet Republic but to that highly powerful argument—dollars and cents.

What Others Say

CAPITAL IN CANADA.

There is more United States capital invested in Canada than in any other foreign country. We have nearly $2,000,000,000 at work in industry there. A survey just completed by the department of commerce reveals these facts.

Is it not reasonable, then, that this country and Canada should be friends? We are a part of the Canadian system of mines, factories, sugar plantations and public utilities and every commercial and industrial activity in which Americans are engaged at home.

South America follows Canada in the use of United States capital to the tune of $1,547,895,000; Europe, with $1,352,735,000; Cuba and the West Indies, $1,063,751,000.

Here is some idea of the magnitude of our business abroad. With Canada we need no forts and no armies. We do business as neighbors and friends. We set the entire world an example of what may be done with respect to boundaries and interests. We have upward of a hundred years of this peace-time association to our credit. It constitutes an era. It proves what may be possible if bordering nations be willing to associate in peace and comfort and all kindly accord in all financial and industrial agreement.

It would be the height of ineptitude, of blind folly on the part of the statesmanship of either country to throw in the way of this rapport anything that would tend injuriously to affect it, whether through the ephemeral opportunism of tariffs or any other principles or methods calculated to strain relationships so commendable and so helpful as those which have existed between Canada and the United States for more than a century. Canada is one of our best customers and one of our best friends.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

OPEN EVERY WEEK DAY FROM 9 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

NEW YORK Daily by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—In active hours Times Square is a gushing fountain of scandal, intrigue and human pettiness. It is in perpetual boil, but at 4 a. m. in its first lap of sleep there is the icy indifference and the sullen languor of the ashen gray sky.

In an all night sandwich parlor I just left, only a sprinkling remained. A few nodded at tables, food half eaten. A tipsy, sobbing girl whose face was smudged with mascara moaned: "A sweet jam you got me into. If I go home he'll kill me." One of those sure guys reading a racing form.

Outdoors scarcely a dozen in sight. The only noise—the slim chime of far-away bells. A newswoman, eyes heavy with sleep, uncurs in a hallway, stretches and scuffles toward a subway kiosk for his supply of morning papers. A careening mail wagon screams across town. A lone diner sits in Lindy's.

Several stragglers drag out of an all night movie, coat collars up and caps pulled far down. They stand hesitatingly at gutters in the bracing air, shrug and move off no where. Stool and counter places have a customer or so hunched over thick coffee cups, dunking half heartedly.

A whistling cop saunters along, offering his naive mysticism of tapping his club against iron bars. In the East clouds begin to fluff a rosy pink. Brass sign polishers are applying their rags. A weaving figure holds to a post, sick at the curb. Huskies hurl stacks of morning editions on the corners.

Bright blonde gaily cross-crossed luggage is deposited in front of side street hotels. Blind newsmen lead their way to hunches. The first screech of rail against rail in the subway. A minx in evening steps from a limousine, smiles enigmatically at a snoring figure and skips up steps.

Suddenly Broadway stiffens. Floodgates are unloosed. There is the confusion of honking taxis, sirens trucks and a scurrying foam of faces. Save in the shady hotels where patrons sleep until dusk, all is vulgar display—the exuberance of Sodom.

A new publicity man was sent to a dock to meet an incoming Russian actor, cast for a brassy role in the movies. He was told to send his description to newspapers, and sent this: "He weighs 237 pounds, stands six feet three in bare feet, neck 18 inches around and smells like a wolf."

The most distinguishing mark of gentlemen's evening dress is the set of the white bow tie. To aid this fashionable foible comes the new evening wing collar with the tabs cut out semi-circularly to make room for the knot. A sartorial "center door fancy," as it were.

Witty wights of Park avenue flapperdom now cry "Wood alcohol!" when saying farewell. Backward snappers were chirping that in Gallopis yaws and yaws ago!

She is one of those exotic, beautiful flowers blooming in the Broadway muck. Her lovers have come from dignified mansions eastward, from the labyrinthine channels of Wall street, from ducal palaces in the old world and where not with a precise but licentious unity. (All of which is very fancy and I can recite On the Road to Mandalay, too.) But a few months ago she crossed with an Argentine—a gigolo. He paid no attention to her on the board or in Paris. Instead of the usual intriguing little person, to him she became a pest. Her ardor was so purblind that she literally threw herself at his feet. But to no avail. The crowning insult came when in one of her tearful entreaties he answered: "You are too easily won. Even a gigolo likes resistance!"

I wonder if others, too, like to poke around those garishly lit delicatessen shops in New York. To me there is something fascinating about the odors—like the dry smell of musk or the perfume of moldering spices in the East India Dock warehouses. Incidentally Lafcadio Hearn is the only writer I know of who has written entertainingly of the psychological drama of smells.

From a newspaper periodical: "Clumping came into popularity quickly and will vanish just as quickly."

Thar she blows!

"Sensitivity Tests"

No one who has never had it can really appreciate the misery and anguish that one with asthma goes through. In an attack of this dreaded disease, there is a spasm of the windpipe and of the smaller tubes that bring air to the lungs.

There is marked difficulty in breathing. The patient can not lie down and he may assume odd positions in his attempts to breathe more freely. He complains that he is unable to "catch his breath." He suffers painfully because of the lack of air reaching his lungs.

We have a great group of cases caused by sensitivity to certain substances. These may be animal emanations, certain foods, the pollen of plants, and in some cases, substances developed by bacteria. In many instances, the bedding, or one of the house furnishings, may be the source of the irritation.

Individuals suffering from this type of asthma should be subjected to "sensitivity tests." By means of these tests the substance which causes the attacks may be determined. Then when it is removed from the diet, the clothing or the surroundings, the attacks usually disappear. The tests are simple and painless and the results are gratifying. The results of the treatment have been exceptionally successful in children.

We have another type of asthma which is commonly seen in adults beyond 40 years of age. This is commonly spoken of as "non-specific asthma," for it is not due to one of the irritating substances I have mentioned. It is the type seen in individuals who have long been sufferers from chronic bronchitis.

In this the prospect of cure is not so bright. It has not been determined exactly what is the cause of the paroxysms or spasms. These attacks vary in intensity. At times they are so severe that relief is only obtained by hypodermic medication by a physician.

A change in climate is likely to benefit persons suffering from asthma. Countries with dry, temperate climate are helpful to many. The victim of chronic asthma should be under the constant supervision of a physician. Continued asthmatic attacks weaken the heart and lungs. These organs should be periodically examined for any signs of weakness so that proper treatment may be given.

Answers to Health Queries
A WORRIED MOTHER. Q.—My boy of eight is apparently well and healthy with red lips and rosy cheeks but he has bluish shadows under his eyes which are more noticeable owing to the fact that he has a very white skin. Is a condition of this kind serious in any way? He has had worms.

A.—This may be of little significance but it would be wise to have a thorough examination to locate a possible cause. Be sure the worms have been definitely eradicated, and be sure that his bowels move regularly.

X.Y. Q.—Is there a cure for colitis?
A.—What is oedema of the veins—is this anything like arthritis?
3.—What will improve the circulation and health in general?
4.—Do swollen feet indicate arthritis?

A.—This depends upon the extent and seriousness of the trouble. In some cases proper diet and care will bring about a cure. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2.—This disturbance is a swelling or puffiness of the part, due to an accumulation of fluid in the tissue. No, it is more like varicose veins.
3.—Improve your health and the circulation will take care of itself.
4.—Not necessarily, although the trouble may be due to this disturbance. Have the kidneys examined to make sure they have no bearing on the trouble.

"A CONSTANT READER." Q.—What do you advise for sinus trouble?
A.—Consult a nose and throat specialist for treatment.

B. H. R. Q.—Is it harmful to the hair or scalp to expose the head to the summer sun.
A.—No.

X.Y. Q.—Is there a cure for colitis?
A.—What is oedema of the veins—is this anything like arthritis?
3.—What will improve the circulation and health in general?
4.—Do swollen feet indicate arthritis?

A.—This depends upon the extent and seriousness of the trouble. In some cases proper diet and care will bring about a cure. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2.—This disturbance is a swelling or puffiness of the part, due to an accumulation of fluid in the tissue. No, it is more like varicose veins.
3.—Improve your health and the circulation will take care of itself.
4.—Not necessarily, although the trouble may be due to this disturbance. Have the kidneys examined to make sure they have no bearing on the trouble.

"A CONSTANT READER." Q.—What do you advise for sinus trouble?
A.—Consult a nose and throat specialist for treatment.

B. H. R. Q.—Is it harmful to the hair or scalp to expose the head to the summer sun.
A.—No.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, January 7

A rather unimportant day is forecast from the chain of minor planetary aspects. These, however, are not of a friendly nature, any may incubate many small annoyances, perplexities and inharmonies. The most menacing figure for this threatens the social domestic or affectional relations, with the realm of employment under hazardous influence.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year which may be beset with minor annoyances, complications and setbacks, especially in employment and in domestic, affectional and social circles. With equanimity and wise action, things may be developed with some satisfaction, but all depends on one's own attitude. A child born on this day may be disposed to be restless, nervous, querulous and critical, qualities which may react unhappily on its own peace of mind and progress.

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark.—A Frisco locomotive was recently attached here by Sheriff R. B. Warner to obtain payment of fines assessed against the line in circuit court. The decision of the court for fines aggregating $5,000 was affirmed by the U. S. supreme court and when the company refused payment the sheriff seized a fast locomotive.

HOOVER TO GET INVITATION TO HARDING RITES

Resolution Is Adopted At Meeting Of Memorial Unit

MARION, Jan. 6.—Trustees of the Harding Memorial association, in session here yesterday afternoon, extended an invitation to President Hoover to come to Marion and deliver the dedicatory address at the dedication of the tomb of the late President Warren G. Harding. Former President Calvin Coolidge was invited to attend the dedication and to preside.

Date To Suit Guests
The invitations, embodied in a resolution, requested that the date for the dedication be set between May 15, and Nov. 1, next to suit the convenience of the president and Mr. Coolidge.

The invitation was issued by the trustees after they had learned through a White House statement, that President Hoover would participate in the dedication if invited to do so.

The resolution was introduced by Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding administration. It was adopted unanimously.

The meeting was held behind closed doors and Secretary Hoke Donithen refused to give out the names of the members in attendance.

The resolution specified that copies be delivered personally to Mr. Hoover and Mr. Coolidge by a committee composed of Donithen and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, president of the association.

Whereas, the Harding Memorial association recognizing the propriety of the president of the United States delivering the dedicatory address upon the occasion of the dedication of the memorial erected at Marion, Ohio, to the memory of our beloved president, Warren G. Harding, by voluntary contributions of the American people; and Whereas, Hon. Calvin Coolidge is honorary president of the association;

Now therefore, be it resolved, that the officers of the association extend to the president of the United States a cordial and respectful invitation to deliver the principal address at the dedication of the Harding Memorial, and that ex-President Coolidge be invited and requested to preside at the ceremonies and participate therein; and that the date of the dedication be fixed at a time between the 15th day of May and the 15th day of November, 1931, the precise date to be selected by the president to suit his convenience and that of ex-President Coolidge; and

Be it further resolved, that all public officials and the public generally be invited to attend said ceremonies and thereby pay their respects to the memory of the late president.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution of invitation be personally delivered to President Hoover and ex-President Coolidge by a committee hereby appointed composed of Hon. Joseph Frelinghuysen, president of the association, and Hon. Hoke Donithen, secretary thereof, and that the details and program of the dedication be by the officers of this association fixed and carried out to meet the approval and convenience of the president of the United States and ex-President Coolidge.

NEW YORK—The Bible continues to be the best seller, though publishers expect that final figures will show somewhat of a decrease last year from 1929 when sales were 14,000,000 in this country.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—A new law now in effect requires teachers in public schools to read to pupils daily a brief passage from the King James version of the Bible.

ATLANTIC CITY—Silence is too loud for a lot of folks. As Dr. Walter A. Wells of Washington put it at a meeting of ear specialists: "An actual fondness for noise has become alarmingly common in America explains widespread popularity of jazz. Many people are restless and unhappy until back again where they can hear the noise of the city streets."

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. — Announcement is made of the marriage of Dr. Linn S. Fenimore Cooper, great grandson of James Fenimore Cooper, the novelist, to Miss Eleanor Pickels of Baltimore. The ceremony was at the home of the doctor's twin brother, Paul S. Fenimore Cooper, who follows the profession of his great grandfather.

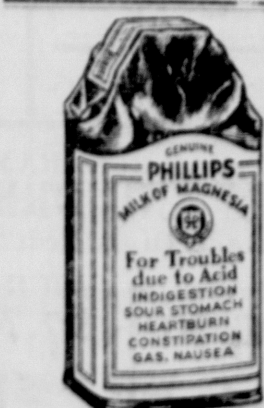

ANGORA, TURKEY—Many deputies in parliament are arguing that it is almost impossible to collect debts in Turkey and are therefore urging that a law, abolished last year, be restored. It provided imprisonment for debt.

CATHOLICS WILL HOLD NATIONAL CAGE TOURNEYS

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Catholic High school basketball teams from all sections of the country will again march on Chicago for Loyola university's national championship tournament.

It was decided yesterday that the event inaugurated in 1924 would be renewed for the eighth time, March 18 to 22, despite disapproval of national tournaments by the National Federation of State High School Athletic associations and the North Central Conference of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., whose University of Chicago inter-scholastic tournament was the father of such events, announced two weeks ago that it would not be renewed. It was expected that Loyola would reach a similar decision, but the Rev. George E. Kiley, S. J., athletic director, said a poll of Catholic school officials throughout the country indicated they wished it to be held at least once more.

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

LEETONIA

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stanbaugh entertained club associates at their home Friday evening. Three tables of bridge were in play. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burbeck won high scores and Mrs. L. E. Fisher and W. R. 4 ARE OUSTED IN POSTOFFICE INVESTIGATION

Quartet Of Postmasters Accused Of Buying Appointments

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Swift action by the postoffice department today had ousted four Indiana postmasters charged with purchasing their appointments from a member of congress.

From First District
All came from the first district represented by Harry E. Rowbottom, Republican. He was not named in the postoffice department announcement of the dismissals yesterday, but two of the dismissed persons said they had contributed to Rowbottom's campaign fund and another was active for him in the last election, which saw Rowbottom's defeat by a Democrat.

Evidence in the case was in the hands of the department of justice for action.
Discharged postmasters are: Otto A. Weibrenner, Mount Vernon; William E. Davidson, Petersburg; McKinley Ayres, Crisney; and Mrs. Helen Roetzle, Boonville. A rural carrier, Ross Wibbler, of Dale, was suspended.

Senators Launch Probe
The investigation which ended in the dismissals was instigated by Indiana's two Republican senators, Watson and Robinson. Assistant Postmaster General Coleman said they reported gossip prevalent in Indiana regarding payments of money in exchange for appointments.

"A searching investigation," he continued, "was immediately inaugurated by the inspection division, resulting in evidence so conclusive that these postmasters were dismissed."

Appointments to replace the four were made immediately. Rowbottom at his home in Evansville said he knew nothing of the dismissals. Mrs. Roetzle said she had paid $200 into the representative's campaign fund, being informed there was a deficit. Ayres, who had held his office nine years, declined to discuss the dismissal. Weibrenner said he had contributed but he refused to name the amount.

Davidson was active in Rowbottom's last campaign also.

Today's Pattern

This swaggar coat is a delightful model which serves double duty. As it may be worn with or without the cape. It is exceptionally easy to make, too, since there are no intricate details. The elbow length cape adds a surprising amount of warmth and does away with the necessity of an interlining in the body of the coat.

Pattern 2077 may be developed in tweed, chinchilla cloth, velvet or a novelty woolen. It will prove serviceable in brown, blue, rust, rose or a mixture. An inexpensive fur collar may be made from lapin, seal, nutria or squirrel.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch material.

COUPON

This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15c. coin or stamps, carefully wrapped. Latest Fashion Book 15c. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

700 PARADE IN 'HUNGER MARCH'

Unemployed in Cleveland Petition City Hall For Relief

(By International News Service) CLEVELAND, Jan. 6.—Staunch efforts of city policemen today were accredited with halting a communist "hunger march" in which more than 700 unemployed took part, without injury and damage to property.

Starting at the public square in a cold driving rain, and singing "Solidarity Forever," the agitators paraded through the streets to the city hall where they were met by three long lines of policemen, headed by Acting Chief George Matowitz.

After sending a group of representatives into the hall to ask city council which was in session for relief to the unemployed, the marchers left the municipal building with orders from their leaders to "take what you want in the way of food if council members of the group halted in front of a restaurant and after entering and ordering some food said they were unable to pay for it. Three men and a boy were arrested by police when they attempted to leave the place without paying. At another restaurant 19 of the paraders left the place with an unpaid bill of $1.20, saying "thank you" as they went out the door.

always has done. These national banks have always had the authority to collect these taxes from their stockholders, but have never done so, preferring to list this as one of the expenditures of the bank, and considering this item in calculating their dividends.

Do Not List, Order

Persons owning shares of stock in national banks in Ohio should not list the same for taxation, and should not pay to the county any taxes upon such stock. This responsibility rests with the bank, just as it has in former years. Collectors of taxes in the various cities should not collect this tax from the shareholders.

The order of the tax commission reads: "The attention of the tax commission has been directed to certain procedure followed by county auditors in the matter of listing bank stock.

"Following the filing of a number of actions by national banks in several counties of the state to enjoin the collection of taxes on the shares of stock of such national banks, the attention of the tax commission has been called to the fact that in many, if not all, of the counties in the state, the county auditors have been listing such shares of stock according to aggregate valuation against the bank, whether national or state, and not by separate entries on the tax list against the shareholders of such bank stock according to the assessed value of such shares of stock held by them, as determined by the county auditor under Section 5412, General Code.

Listed In Owners' Name

"Under the statutes of this state enacted in conformity with the provisions of Section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, United States Code Annotated, Section 548, Title 12, the shares of stock in national banks, and state banks as well, when valued for taxation by the county auditors are required to be placed on the tax list in the names of the respective owners of such shares of stock. In other words, shares of bank stock owned by any individual or corporation should be listed for taxation at the assessed value thereof in the name of such individual or corporation on the personal property tax list provided for by Section 2583, General Code, and the amount of taxes for each half year should be extended against such entry in the manner provided for by Section 2594, General Code.

"Inasmuch as under the provision of Section 5672, General Code, the bank is required to collect the taxes due upon its shares of stock from the several owners of such shares and to pay the same to the treasurer of the county, there should be carried on such tax list or other convenient record a notation of the total assessed value of all of the shares of the bank and of the amount of taxes to be paid each half year thereon.

Shareholders Liabilities. However, the refusal or neglect of the bank to pay such taxes does not affect the liability of the several shareholders of the stock of such bank to pay the taxes extended against the shares of stock owned by them; and if the shares of such bank stock are listed in the name of the owners thereof on the tax list, and the taxes thereon are extended against such entries all as provided by Sections 2583 and 2594, General Code, be complied with and that the proper entries be made on the tax list and duplicate in compliance with this order, which is effective at once and applicable to the tax list and duplicate of the year 1930.

ry cut the recognized situation that education now is a state-wide obligation.

Additional and adequate physical improvements to carry out the recommendations of his special welfare commission, chiefly in the form of appropriations.

Provision for retesting cattle for tuberculosis in all testing areas at least every three years.

Appropriations for the state fair sufficient for competent and complete maintenance of present property, and appropriation for a new poultry building.

Development of a system of state parks and lakes combining all conservation interests, and a survey of all lakes to establish definite boundaries.

Suggests Relief Methods

Appointment of a committee to ascertain to what extent Ohio should participate in the bi-centennial of Washington's birthday in 1932 and make appropriate financial arrangements.

Referring to a new taxation program the governor said, "It is clear to me that the changes in our taxation system should be directed to giving relief for the farmer and the home owner, who have in the past borne more than their share of the taxation burden; and to certain classes of business property so that Ohio industry may compete on equal terms with similar enterprises in surrounding states.

"More tax from those who have not paid their share and less tax from those who have been paying more than their share, should be the main objective in securing the absolutely necessary revenues in the writing of a new tax law."

Problem of Relief

In discussing at length the welfare situation in the state and the recommendations of his special welfare committee, Mr. Cooper made the following observation: "This General Assembly will be confronted with no problem deserving more thoughtful and more earnest consideration, or calling for more immediate and definite action than that of adequate provision for the care and comfort of the unfortunate wards of the state."

During his two years of tenure, the governor said $3,500,000 have been spent for additions and betterments for welfare institutions which he declared to be 40 per cent more than the average during the last five biennial periods. This does not include $1,000,000 in betterments under contract, he said.

The main question today is, unfortunately, how can a man feed himself and his wife and his children who hasn't got even $1 a day?

Ornate Candelabra to the Fore

Among the slightly Victorian decorations which are the mark of a revival of the ornate candelabra of an earlier day. Of course candelabra have always been used to some extent, and they have a charm of their own. Silver, pewter, copper, brass, "tole" and china and glass are among the materials used. Also, some very handsome effects are developed by the use of wrought iron.

What is most harmonious depends on the other items in a room, for a conspicuous pair of candelabra will suppress everything else if it doesn't blend properly. The wrought iron pieces go well with Spanish, Italian, or some early American furnishings. Modernistic candelabra also combine well with these periods.

Wrought iron seems like a homey medium for so decorative an article, yet there are skilful craftsmen today who will create handsome designs out of this material. Candelabra with their small holders emerging from branches of wrought iron leaves have a beautiful, handmade effect, which provides just the right setting for mellow candlelight. Some of the early American candelabra of silver are just as beautiful, if not more so when coped in wrought iron.

Candelabra come in many attractive sizes. They may be low affairs, a few inches high only so that they blend well into the mantel over the fireplace. China candelabra are particularly effective over a Colonial type mantel. Or for the long rectangular table, the candelabra a foot high or more are well-proportioned. Candelabra four or five feet high, usually of wrought iron, may flank the fireplace, or stand at either end of the long foyer table. This type of candelabra is also very effective if placed on either side of the piano, shedding a mellow and adequate light, and usually pleases the musician.

Among the spicy flavorings which can rescue soups and sauces from flatness. A teaspoonful of cooking sherry at the last minute before removing from the stove will also glorify a flat sauce beyond recognition. Grated rind of lemon or orange, and their juice can be added to sweet dishes at the last moment to tone them up. Rubs of anchovy paste, mushroom paste, bouillon paste, are helpful. And of course, the more liberal the assortment of flavors—vanilla, almond, peppermint, chocolate, and other concentrated liquids, the more agreeable the variety imparted to simple desserts.

BANKING SOUND; LIQUID ASSETS ARE INCREASED

80 Per Cent Of Failures
Not Members Of Reserve System

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The American banking situation was indicated as sound by condition statements of leading banks as of Dec. 31, showing an unusual degree of liquidity.

Reports of the larger New York city banks as of Dec. 31, issued in response to the call of the controller of currency, generally showed decreases in deposits from the Sept. 24 call, but sharp increases in liquid assets. The shrinkage in deposits was a natural development in view of the closing of many of the smaller banks and bank executives have turned many of their assets into ready cash to meet any extraordinary withdrawals that might develop.

Mismanagement Found
While suspensions of banks last year were unusually large, 60 per cent of the banks that were closed were capitalized at $25,000 or under and located in towns of less than 1,000 population, while 80 per cent were not even members of the Federal Reserve system. In addition, evidences of mismanagement were found in some of the institutions.

Bank suspensions during the first 11 months of 1930 as reported by the Federal Reserve board numbered 981 and involved deposits of $515,000,000, while in the nine-year period from 1921 to 1929, inclusive, there were 5,642 suspensions, involving deposits of $1,722,466,000. Failures continued during December, climaxed by the closing of the Bank of United States in New York City.

Security Prices Drop
The increase in 1930 bank suspensions, according to a recent survey by the National City Bank of New York, probably is no greater than should have been expected in view of the severe drop in security prices, farm products and other commodities and the slump in business generally.

Reviewing the banking situation particularly with respect to the large number of suspensions in 1930, Rome C. Stephenson, president of the American Bankers' association, declared today that to some extent the bank must take a passive role, and that its policies reflect business practices. Many business firms, he said, are finding difficulty in meeting their obligations, so that the difficulties of the banks are thereby increased.

The vast bulk of bank assets, however, are "100 per cent sound above all question."

AIR SQUADRON OVER ATLANTIC ON BRAZIL HOP

12 Italian Seaplanes Begin
1,600-Mile Trip To
South America

BULLETIN
FERNANDO DO NORONHA, BRAZIL, Jan. 6.—Six planes of General Italo Balbo's trans-Atlantic fleet passed over this island, 125 miles from the mainland at 2:55 o'clock this afternoon, (11:55 a. m., E. S. T.).

(By Associated Press)
BOLAMA, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 6.—Twelve Italian seaplanes struck southwestward across the equatorial Atlantic today toward Natal, Brazil, in one of the most ambitious flight projects in the history of aviation.

Undertaken by bad weather the planes took off one by one at 2 a. m., G. M. T. (9 p. m., E. S. T. Monday), and in murky darkness began the trip of more than 1,600 miles to the northeastern tip of South America.

With a cruising speed of 100 miles per hour their commander, General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister, hoped to reach Natal in between 16 and 20 hours, or between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. Natal time (5 p. m., and 9 p. m., E. S. T.) today.

The flight is the longest and most difficult lap of a nearly 6,000-mile air journey begun with the departure of 14 Savoia seaplanes from Orbetello, Italy, for Rio De Janeiro. The flight may be continued to Buenos Aires, which would make the total trip around 7,000 miles.

Stationed between Bolama and Natal were 12 Italian cruisers and other vessels, ready to race to the assistance of any of the squadron which might find it necessary to come down in mid-Atlantic.

As the planes took off the first of the cruisers was notified by radio of the departure and word flashed along the course of the other ships, each of which sought to sight the squadron and flash the word back to Rome.

With two exceptions, one so minor as to be hardly considered, the way is over open water with no intermediate landfall. About 125 miles, northeast of Natal is Fernando Do Noronha, Brazilian penal colony island, and between that and Bolama the lonely island known as St. Paul's Rocks, used as a cable landing station. The latter would hardly offer any shelter should the planes be forced down.

For the first eight hours the fliers expected to encounter warm and moderate northeast trade winds, and between the eighth and tenth hours the great zone of equatorial calms were light winds predominating and where there are apt to be light rains.

Between the tenth and twentieth hours the squadron expected through strong southeast-trade winds with a fairly clear sky. Near the Brazilian coast the aviators were warned to expect heavy rains and low visibility.

Each of the 12 planes carried four men, two pilots, a mechanic and a radio operator. Two of the 14 planes which flew from Orbetello remained here. They came this far as spares to fill in should they be needed.

The planes flew in four groups of three each, the first three being painted black, the second three red, the third three white, and the last three green, the colors of Fascism, and of the Italian tri-color. All members of the crews are members of the Fascist party.

DEATHS

F. C. O'NEIL
W. H. O'Neil has returned from Denver, Colo., where he attended the funeral of his brother, F. C. O'Neil, 47, who died suddenly Dec. 26. Heart trouble is given as the cause of death.

F. C. O'Neil was a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. O'Neil and was born and reared in Salem. He had lived in Denver for 18 years and was superintendent for the Griffith Wheel company in that city.

Besides his widow and one child, he is survived by several brothers and sisters.

WILBUR AGAINST TARIFF ON OIL

Would Be of Little Value to Small
Producer, in Opinion of
Secretary

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary Wilbur today declared himself against a tariff on oil.

Such a tariff, as proposed from time to time by some of the leading producers and recently by E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum institute would be of little value to the small producer, the secretary asserted.

"The chief result," he said, "would be that the big companies, which now have many wells shut in and not in operation, would open them up, adding to the production. Over-production is the basic ill of the industry."

"Besides this," he added, "our imports of petroleum are negligible, forming only about 10 per cent of the production. Our exports account for 15 per cent of the total production."

Grocer Arrested In Welfare Fraud

DAYTON, Jan. 6.—Police arrested Oscar Blum, local grocer, yesterday, and held him in jail under $2,000 bond on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Police said he was cashing for $2.50 requisition cards worth $3.60 given unemployed persons who had worked for the city. The cards are good for $3.60 payable by the Family Welfare department after local grocers have exchanged groceries for the cards.

Trial On Decision Of Judge Advanced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The appeal of the United States to test the present decision of Judge Clark holding the prohibition amendment invalid today was advanced by the supreme court for hearing on Wednesday, Jan. 21.

Chief Justice Hughes made this announcement today and said it would be heard ahead of all cases awaiting hearing on that date.

Undeclared Teams To Clash In Class A League Game Tonight

THE DAY In Sports

LARGE CROWD AT GAME
LEAGUE GAMES TONIGHT

Approximately 1,200 fans witnessed the three Salem High victories over East Liverpool High teams here Saturday night. It was the largest crowd to attend a basketball game since the Salem-Youngstown South High battle of 1926 when about 1,350 fans packed the gymnasium to capacity. Included in the attendance figures for Saturday's game are about 500 students, 263 fans who paid 50 cents for general admission seats, 254 who paid 75 cents for reserved seats and 72 25-cent admissions.

Games for the rest of the year will be held with reserved seats selling for 50 cents under the "first come, first served" system. The reserved seats can be obtained at the Leake Drug store, East State and South Lincoln ave. The 75-cent seats plan was for use only in the Salem-Liverpool and Salem-Alliance games but will be dropped, school officials said today. All seats will be sold at 50 cents but reservations will be continued as usual.

Plenty of fans are expected to witness the two city league leaders in action at the Memorial building tonight. The leaders—Golden Eagles and Grove Electrics—share first place with two victories each, tonight's winner getting undisputed possession of first place in the league race.

City league activities, both in Class A and Class B, are furnishing great entertainment for many Salem basketball fans. Despite the fact that only four teams are in the main circuit this season, interest is maintained at a high key and several will watch the titular contenders do battle.

"Who won the Salem-Alumni basketball game?" High school fans claim the verdict and members of the alumni team are emphatic in claims that they were victors. The game, however, will be recorded in official records of the season as a 34-33 decision for Coach Stone's basketballers.

The unofficial decision goes to the alumni who outscored the scholastic quintet but still won't be accredited with victory in records because rules demand that the score of the official scorer be taken as the official result of the game. Ninety-nine per cent of the fans witnessing the contest went home convinced that the alumni won, but what does it matter?

So, the records now show the Red and Black varsity as having won three games and lost three. Jot the scores down in the red schedules as follows:

Salem 25 Canton McKinley 36;
Salem 17 Akron East 21; Salem 23 Massillon 22; Salem 34 Alumni 33;
Salem 25 Alliance 28; Salem 23 Liverpool 22.

Hard hit by graduation as her team was Coach Esther Peterson has developed a fairly strong team to represent Salem High in effeminate basketball activities this season. Outplayed by East Liverpool for at least three periods, the Quaker ladies came from behind with a great sport that indicated them as an outstanding contender for county titular honors.

Nominating C. C. Gibson, president of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation as one of Salem's most fair-minded and enthusiastic athletic fans.

WARREN ROLLERS SET UP RECORD

Salem Moose Victims In High Score Match By Thomas Steel Five

What is believed to have established a new all-time record in Mahoning Valley tenpin bowling competition was established by the Trumbull Steel quintet of Warren in a special match with the Salem Moose at Warren. The Warren outfit totaled 3,242 against the Salem rollers.

Jack Almer of Warren hit three games for 245, 296 and 224 for a total of 735. Matt Welsh getting 718 for three games of 215, 245 and 258.

Golden Eagle Cagers Meet Grove Electrics In Important Contest

Salem's leading contenders for Class A titular honors, the Golden Eagle merchants and the R. E. Grove Electric quintet, battle for the municipal basketball leadership in the main cage duel scheduled at the Memorial building tonight.

The merchants, victorious in the 1929-30 Class A campaign, have won two straight games, defeating the Electric Furnace and McArthur Florists. The Electrics hold decisive victories over both these teams, a hard fought battle being anticipated when the two leaders clash.

Use Regular Teams
The Golden Eagle, backed by Solbert Greenberger, will use Max Caplan and his brother Nate at forwards; Herman Litty at center, with Les Older and John (Pete) Sanders at the guard positions. Raymond Grove, backer of the Electrics, will oppose this combination with Bruce Cope at center; Paul Fogg and Jimmy Scullion at forward, and Walter (Pete) Harsh and Evan Jenkins at guards. Bunker Hill will play forward.

The McArthur Florists and Electric Furnace, underdogs in the Class A race, will meet in the first game, scheduled at 7:30. Both have powerful aggregations and although to date they have failed to flash strength equal to that of the two

Groves Play Quakers

HEAD OF N. B. A. REVIEWS FIGHT GAME FOR 1930

Major Clinnin Declares Fistic Racket Good In Past Year

BY MAJ. GEN. JOHN V. CLINNIN
President, National Boxing Ass'n.
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The year 1930 was an exceptionally prosperous year for boxing and wrestling, despite business and industrial depressions.

It was a year of upsets for champions. The Sharkey-Schmeling contest in June was most unsatisfactory, owing to the passing of the title on a foul and because of the early departure of Schmeling for Europe, his failure to defend the title within the time limit fixed by the rules of the National Boxing Association, all of which has caused this organization to vote on the proposition of vacating the title. The International Boxing Union of Europe has an eight months' rule by which the title is automatically vacated if the champion fails to defend within that period of time.

Rosenbloom Wins Title
In the light heavyweight class, Maxie Rosenbloom won his title from Jimmy Slattery on June 25, and successfully defended it against Abie Bain, on Oct. 22.

Mickey Walker was deposed from the throne as middleweight champion by the National association, he not having defended the title since his fight with Ace Hudkins, Oct. 29, 1929. The title in this case now is open.

In the welterweight division, Tommy Freeman furnished the first upset when he defeated Jackie Fields, Sept. 5, 1930, but has not risked the title since then.

Berg Trims Callahan
The junior welterweight champion Jack (Kid) Berg, defeated Muddy Callahan for the title on Feb. 17, 1930 at London, England, and not having defended it within the six months' period, the National association has given notice that it will be vacated.

The lightweight division furnished two earthquakes during the year. Sammy Mandell was knocked out by Al Singer on July 16 and Singer was knocked out by Tony Canzoneri on Nov. 14.

In the junior lightweight class, Benny Bass won the title on Dec. 20, 1929, from Tod Morgan, and having failed to defend it within the time limit is now in danger of having it vacated.

Battalino Champion
The featherweight champion, Battalino, of Connecticut, successfully defended his title on Dec. 12, 1930, against Kid Chocolate. In the bantamweight class, Al Brown had held the title since 1929 but the National association ordered the title vacated.

Frankie Genaro has held the title of flyweight champion since Feb. 6, 1928, and retained it by boxing Midget Volzast to a draw at New York, Dec. 26, 1930.

Clark, Philadelphia, (6); Harry Blitman, Philadelphia, knocked out Al Gordon, Philadelphia, (1).
TORONTO—Jackie Phillips, Toronto, outpointed Jack Gillespie, Detroit, (8).

CANFIELD COURT TEAM EASY FOR GOLDEN EAGLES

Salem Cagers Surprise In Sensational 50-19 Win Over Olympic Club

Canfield Olympics, highly touted as one of Northeastern Ohio's strongest independent cage aggregations, fell before the strong offensive attack of Salem's Class A championship basketball quintet, the Golden Eagles, by a 50-19 score at the Memorial building Monday.

The Salem quintet upset all dope in annihilating the visitors in easy fashion, holding a wide edge in play throughout the contest. They held a 11-5 lead at the close of the first period, increased it to 23-7 at the half and were ahead 39-15 when the fourth quarter got under way.

Canfield never had a chance. Schwartzoff, Litty and Older, Solbert Greenberger's "big three", collecting a total of 41 points between them. The result of the contest made the merchants heavy favorites to trim the Grove Electrics in their league clash tonight. Summary:

BIG TEN CHAMPS MEET MICHIGAN

Purdue Seeks Victory In Game At Ann Arbor; Wisconsin Leads

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Some idea of Purdue's chance of retaining the Western conference basketball championship will be determined tonight at Ann Arbor where the Wolverines tackle Michigan.

The Wolverines are hoping that history will repeat itself—but in reverse. A year ago Michigan, the defending champion, opened its season at Purdue and took a 23 to 19 beating.

Wisconsin today was the leader of the race by virtue of its victory last night over Illinois in the inaugural of the Big Ten season. The badgers' man to man defense was just a little tighter than Illinois' and they gained a 12 to 9 decision.

Iowa was given a terrific battle by Drake last night but squirmed out with a 21 to 20 victory, gaining an even break in its four game practice season. Minnesota made a sweep of its five-game set by defeating Iowa State, 29 to 17.

Chicago and Ohio State also will play tonight, but against non-conference opponents. The maroons, showing promise of being much improved over last season, meet Marquette at Milwaukee. Ohio will meet Notre Dame at South Bend.

This gas burner makes your coal furnace an automatic heating plant...at a very low cost

YOUR heating labors and worries are over... the drudgery, dirt and annoyances of hand fired methods are shadows of the past when your coal furnace is converted into an automatic gas heating plant by the Surface Combustion Gas Burner.

The change can be made in a few hours' time without any bother or inconvenience to you and without changing your present heating system. And the job is guaranteed to operate to your complete satisfaction.

Easy to Pay For

SO LOW is the cost of equipment and so liberal is the two-year payment plan that any family who can afford a good washing machine or a first class radio can enjoy the comfort and convenience of automatic gas heat and never miss the small payments!

Estimate Free

IF YOU are at all interested in automatic heating, if you would like to free the family of the nuisance and hardship of old fashioned methods, if Winter time health protection means anything to you, we suggest you send for one of our heating men to explain the costs and benefits of gas heat.

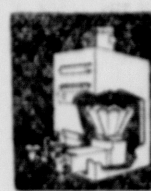

Please do not feel obligated—our Heating Man's mission is to be of service in acquainting you with just how automatic gas heat will work out in your home. He will examine your present heating system, compute its efficiency, measure up the heat requirements for the type of your house construction, and then supply you with a reliable estimate of your season's fuel bill.

Summer Heat all Winter

Fits any coal furnace

...and any coal boiler

Finger tip control

Ask about Liberal Allowances

His estimate will not be a guess, but a reasonably accurate forecast of your complete heating costs arrived at by engineering methods and the records of the United States Weather Bureau covering normal weather conditions. Experience of most users is that their gas bills are less than the estimate.

No Payments till Spring

YOU probably will be agreeably surprised at the relatively low cost of this ideal form of automatic heating. In many instances you will find the fuel cost of gas less than the cost of other fuels. And where the estimate on gas may be a little more, remember that there are no hidden costs to gas heat.

With gas you pay nothing for delivery, nothing for putting the fuel in the cellar, nothing for ash removal, nothing for furnace cleaning, far less for housekeeping, drapery, carpet and furniture renovating. Wall paper and decoration expense is much lower with gas and you do not have to pay for the gas until after you have used it.

Enjoy Automatic Gas Heat—NOW!

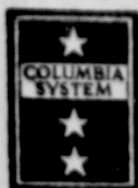

And still you can enjoy all these savings of gas heat, and at the same time be free of all heating bother, furnace coddling and grimy stoking. Gas heat is completely automatic. If your freedom is worth anything to you at all, we feel you won't go through the rest of this winter with annoyance and downright slavery when you learn how little gas heat costs. Why not telephone the Gas Office now?

SPECIAL LIBERAL TERMS

Low Down Payment. No further payments till April.

24 months for the balance. You pay only $1 monthly in December, January and February.

MOVIES

"MADAM SATAN" At The State

"Madam Satan," which opened last night at the State Theatre, most certainly upholds Cecil B. De Mille's long sustained reputation of being a master in the realm of the exotic and unusual.

The M-G-M director's new comedy with music, touches upon about every conceivable phase of entertainment. It treats of domestic discord. It has spiky and clever scenes in mad lady's boudoir. It takes you to a gorgeous masked ball aboard a Zeppelin, and finally brings you to a nerve racking climax as the ship tears loose from its mooring mast, and the guests jump for safety in parachutes.

And all of this excitement is coated over by eight musical numbers and three special ballets, making "Madam Satan" a well rounded eye and ear attraction.

Reginald Denny and Kay Johnson are the two principals, and they do splendidly. Both have delightful voices. Roland Young is delightful as the comic Jimmy and Lillian Roth does a fine piece of work as "the other woman."

"THE SPOILERS" At The Grand

Barbers of Hollywood recently spent many hopeful hours honing razors in anticipation of the day Paramount completed recording of "The Spoilers."

Many extras used in the feature, now playing at the Grand Theatre, were ordered by Director Edwin Carewe to remain unshaved all during the course of production. Barbers were scarce in Alaska, at the time of which Rex Beach wrote, and the gold-hungry citizens of the town were not particular about their appearance.

The consequence was that bearded men became epidemic on Hollywood's streets and boulevards.

In the opinion of those who witnessed the fight which Gary Cooper and William Boyd staged with an acre of heavily "wooded" faces providing a grim and stolid background, this struggle is the greatest hand-to-hand encounter ever staged for the sound camera.

The principals entered the fiasco with full knowledge that they were expected to surpass the tumultuous set-to of William Farnum and Tom Santschi for Selig's 1913 silent version.

An unusually able featured cast appears in support of Cooper for "The Spoilers." Included are Kay Johnson, Betty Compson, James Kirkwood, Harry Green, "Slim" Summerville and Lloyd Ingraham. In addition there are over five hundred "hardy" types.

Persons who wish to witness "The Spoilers" should read this notice. So read it.

Columbus-New York Train Is Derailed

(By United Press) PATASKALA, O., Jan. 6.—Pennsylvania passenger train No. 26, bound from Columbus to New York, was derailed west of the station here early today, causing service to be delayed several hours. None of the passengers was injured. A broken rail caused the last four cars of the passenger train to leave the track. It was said the cars were not damaged and were taken back to Columbus after the passengers were transferred to train No. 134, which proceeded eastward. The train that was derailed was operating between St. Louis and New York.

Nab Counterfeiter

DAYTON, Jan. 6.—Police yesterday arrested John R. Mannish, 31, charging him with counterfeiting coins. They discovered the counterfeit money, they said, when Mannish gave children the coins to buy candy, telling them to bring him the change.

MEMPHIS.—For the 68th consecutive year, members of the Lee family, famous as Mississippi river pilots and boat owners, dispatched a packet upstream shortly before Christmas, carrying sweets, gifts and food-stuffs to rivermen and small communities north of here.
